Reticence Which Has Enveloped
Plans of Washington Administration Continues

FOR FAIR AND FREE ELECTION

It Is Believed Efforts Will Be Made to Secure the Participation of the Con-stitutionalists in a Fair and Free Election

MRS. LIND AIDS TWO "DEPUTIES"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Reticence which has enveloped the plans of the Washington administration on the Mexican problem for the last few days, continued everywhere in official circles today.

Those few who are acquainted with what President Wilson has under consideration declared that he had fixed upon nothing as a finality but that he was turning over in his mind some definite proposals.

From the same source it was learned that in whatever is attempted, due consideration of the constitutionalists as an important factor in the situation would be given. It was inferred in many quarters that the cardinal feature of the administration's plan will be a comprehensive scheme to bring about a fair and free election, efforts to be made by the American government to use its good offices to secure the participation of the constitutionalists. In some quarters the suggestion was advanced that the Washington government contemplated assisting materially in the conduct of the proposed elections to insure certain safeguards.

Discussion of the suggestion in diplomatic circles ending as a precedent at the United States had supervised elections in Cuba brought out many expressions of opinion to the effect that none of the Mexican factions probably would consent to such an arrangement. The general disposition of the constitutionalist agents here, diplomats and other officials concerned in the situation was to await the president's plans. It is admitted that no action will be made until an announcement of an official character is made in Mexico in regard to last Sunday's elections. Much interest is manifested in the arrival here tomorrow of Roberto V. Pesquer, nephew of the governor of Sonora and special messenger from Governor Carranza to the constitutionalist agency here. It is believed he brings the views of the constitutionalist chiefs to what would or would not prove acceptable to them in the way of election arrangements and an earnest request that the agency here continue its efforts to obtain the removal of the embargo on arms.

Owe Liberty to Mrs. Lind.
New York, Oct. 31.—The steamer that arrived tonight from Vera Cruz with Mrs. John Lind, wife of President Wilson's special envoy, brought also two Mexican legislators who owe their liberty, if not their lives, to her wit and generosity. To save the two Mexicans from arrest at Vera Cruz, Mrs. Lind hid them in her state room and sat up all night on deck until the boat left port and the officers of the Huerta government had gone ashore. A week ago the cables brought word that the Ward Line Moro Castle had been detained at Vera Cruz, while Huerta's agents searched for eight rebellious members of the legislature of the state of Vera Cruz. Until the Moro Castle arrived here tonight only those aboard knew that two of the eight "deputies" had escaped arrest. There, Adolfo Dominguez and Miguel A. Cordera, say they will stay in New York until Mexico becomes a safer home for the opponents of Huerta.

Federals Search Ship.
Mrs. Lind said that her husband, the special envoy, had expected to come home after the Mexican election. She didn't know when he would come.

"We expected that the Moro Castle would sail from Vera Cruz," said Mrs. Lind, "at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Oct. 23. Then Captain Huff was subpoenaed to testify regarding the flight of Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, who had sailed on the Moro Castle five months before. Later we learned that the real reason for our detention was that the government wished to search the ship for eight state legislators from the city of Jalpa. They arrested six of these

GREAT METHODIST CONVENTION CLOSES

DELEGATES UNANIMOUSLY ADOPT
DENOMINATIONAL POLICY

Body Also Endorses Plans for the Lincoln Jubilee Now Being Prepared by the Freedman's Aid Society and urges the Up-Building of the Rural Church.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 31.—After adopting a denominational policy by a unanimous vote the first national convention of Methodist members which has been in session here since Tuesday adjourned tonight after the large audience had spent an hour in prayer for the success of the new movement. The convention was the largest semi-official Methodist meeting ever held in America, it was declared by officers of the church.

More than 3,000 delegates from all parts of the country representing the three and a quarter million members sat with the bishops of the church and practically all of the general conference, as well as the various boards and societies, district superintendents and clergy. When Dr. J. W. Van Cleave, of Decatur, Ill., read a resolution of the business committee declaring "we believe the Bible should be restored to the public schools" the audience arose, sang "America," and gave the chautauqua salute amid much applause.

The resolution also endorses the plans for the Lincoln jubilee being prepared by the Freedman's aid society for the negro and urges the upbuilding of the rural church. The convention, on a resolution presented by Dr. George Heber Jones, of 25 years a missionary in Japan, voted to send a message of felicitation to Viscount Chinda, Japanese ambassador at Washington, as today is the birthday of the emperor of Japan. Ambassador Chinda is a graduate of DePauw university, a Methodist institution at Green Castle, Ind.

Another resolution introduced by Bishop Frank M. Bristol, extends to Charles W. Fairbanks, who was to have presided at tonight's meeting the convention's sympathy on the death of his wife.

TO HONOR ROOSEVELT.

Buenos Ayres, Oct. 31.—The committee of the Social Museum in anticipation of the approaching visit to Buenos Ayres of Col. Theodore Roosevelt has issued a manifesto to the people inviting them to take part in the festivities during his stay here.

HELD FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 31.—W. H. Wainright, treasurer of Muskogee county, was arrested here today on a warrant charging embezzlement. The state examiner reported an alleged shortage of $55,000 in Wainright's accounts. He was released under $15,000 bond.

men, but they didn't find the others; and I'll tell you why.

"While the search was going on, the friends of these two men learned that I was aboard and they came with tears in their eyes begging me to help them. I said 'here's the key to my stateroom. Take it.'

"That was all they needed. I spent the night on deck and the two men hid in my room until the detectives gave up the search and went ashore. Then the ship was released and we sailed at 5 o'clock the next morning."

The wife of the special envoy is a house-wifely little woman with quiet manners and a low voice, but her eyes flashed as she asserted.

"I couldn't bear to think of these men being taken ashore and hanged. I just had to do something for them."

Other Americans Aboard.

Two other Americans aboard the Moro Castle, George Hebron and John Kane, employees of the American Smelting and Refining company, also had an experience with Dominguez and Cordera. The first night guez and Cordera, Mr. Hebron said Dominguez burst into their stateroom yelling in Spanish:

"There're after me! They're after me!"

Hebron ran on deck and into the arms of a squad of Mexican soldiers. "Are you an American," they demanded.

Hebron said he was and they made no attempt to detain him. "When I returned to my stateroom," said the American, "I found Dominguez inside with the door barricaded."

MOTHER OF THREE CHILDREN IS FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 31.—Mrs. Bessie J. Wakefield of Bristol, mother of three children was found guilty of murder in first degree for her part in the killing of her husband, William, last June.

Mrs. Wakefield is not the first woman convicted of first degree murder in Connecticut but no woman has been changed in the state since 1876. Evidence in the trials showed that Mrs. Wakefield and her partner James Plew conspired to get rid of Wakefield. While Mrs. Wakefield took her children out for a walk Plew partly dragged her husband and took him out for a walk of several miles and then shot him to death. A knife was driven in the neck and rope placed around the neck to give the appearance of suicide. Mrs. Wakefield then reported to the police that her husband was missing and she feared that he had ended his life. An investigation resulted in the arrest of the couple and both confessed. It is probable that Mrs. Wakefield and Plew will be sentenced together.

GRAFT INVESTIGATOR GIVES TESTIMONY

Former Governor Sulzer's Investigator, John A. Hennessey
Is Placed on the Stand

CONTRACTORS CONTRIBUTE

Witness Tells of Many Contributions Made by Big Contractors to Candidates Which Had Not Been Properly Accounted For

ASSERTS NO CONTRACTOR ESCAPED

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—John A. Hennessey, former governor Sulzer's graft investigator, who has been campaigning against Tammany Hall, testified on the stand today and declared that William J. Connors of Buffalo had told him of having collected $25,000 from James Stewart, a stage barge canal contractor. Hennessey was the first witness in John Doe proceedings instituted by District Attorney Whitman to investigate charges made by Hennessey against Murphy, Edward McCall, the Democratic candidate for mayor and others. Hennessey said he had seen Connors in Buffalo this fall during his investigations into graft in the state department and that Henry Burgard of Buffalo and a "big contractor named McDonough" of Niagara were present.

"Connors told me," the witness said, "that Murphy had asked him to get a good contribution from Jim Stewart because Stewart had a contract. Murphy didn't know Stewart and Connors said he got the $25,000 from Stewart in Dunkirk. I think it was in October, 1910."

Were Not Accounted For.

The witness added that George McGuire of Syracuse had told him that Stewart had two other contributions of $5,000 each in 1911 and 1912. McGuire, Hennessey said, declared that one of these contributions had gone to Norman E. Mack, chairman of the national Democratic committee and the other to J. Sergeant Cram, a Tammany politician. These contributions claimed in recent speeches had not been accounted for.

"McGuire said that if I got a list of road contractors I would have a list of contributors that not one man escaped," Hennessey declared.

H. S. Kirby, another contractor gave up $10,000 in 1911 and $5,000 in 1912, the witness said. McGuire had informed him and of these contributions one or the other went to Norman E. Mack. He added that McGuire had said that $1,000 in all went to Murphy.

Tells of Meeting in Dix Office

Hennessey told of a meeting in Governor Dix' office in Albany as reported to him by McGuire between Everett Fowler of Kingston, Norman E. Mack and C. Gordon Reil, then

ALLEGED BRITISH BANKER IS WANTED ON FORGERY CHARGE BY BALTIMORE POLICE

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Captain Cornelius Glenn Collins who for two days attended the meetings of the Investment Bankers' association here and gave his opinions as representing the thought of British bankers was arrested here tonight on a charge of forgery at the request of Baltimore, Md., police. During the first two days of the session of the bankers' association which ended yesterday, Collins attended. He said he represented a large European banking house and his expressions met respectful attentions from the American bankers. A cable to the London House, however, brought the response that Collins was unknown and the credentials which had been given him by the bankers' committee were returned. After his bankers' card had been questioned, Collins disappeared from the hotel in the late afternoon. He was carrying an elaborate suitcase, containing one collar.

CITIES CELEBRATE DEDICATION OF TRANS-CONTINENTAL HIGHWAY

Starting of Lincoln Highway is Recognized by Festivities in Many Towns Along the Route.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 31.—The Will county Lincoln memorial Highway association held a celebration tonight as a unit of the nation wide recognition of the starting of the transcontinental highway movement. An automobile parade which started at New Lenox in the eastern part of the county covered fifteen miles over the proposed route of the highway. The parade passed through Joliet, where it became a part of a masque carnival and continued to Plainfield.

Cheyenne Celebrates.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 31.—With firing of cannons and blowing of factory whistles and bon fires on the main street, Cheyenne tonight celebrated the dedication of the Lincoln Highway.

Mass Meeting at Frisco.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 31.—San Francisco, the western terminus of the Lincoln Highway celebrated at a mass meeting tonight to dedication of the transcontinental route. Various commercial and civic organizations were represented by orators and a municipal band concert featured the entertainment.

Iowa Points Celebrate.

Boone, Iowa, Oct. 31.—Iowa points on the Lincoln Highway today were scenes of official celebrations of the opening of the New York-San Francisco thoroughfare. In Boone the chief event was a mass meeting tonight at which former

ATTORNEYS COMPLETE ARGUMENTS ON APPEAL

COURT TAKES PETITION OF UNION
LABOR LEADERS UNDER ADVISEMENT

Decision Will Probably Be Rendered Within Sixty Days and Can At-firm Verdicts of Guilty, Order a New Trial or Decide That the Government Has No Case and Release the Prisoners.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—The argument on the appeal of thirty of the labor union officials convicted at Indianapolis last December of conspiracy and complicity in the McNamara dynamite plots was completed before the United States circuit court of appeals today. The court took the petition under advisement and will render a decision probably within sixty days. The court may render one of three decisions:

It may affirm the verdicts of guilty rendered in the lower court.

It may set aside the verdicts and order a new trial.

Or it may decide that the government has no case, in which event the convicted men would be set at liberty.

Upon the decision depends whether Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers' union and the others shall be sent back to the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, from which they were released on bonds pending the outcome of their appeal. Should the verdicts returned at Indianapolis be affirmed the men still may appeal to the United States supreme court but it is discretionary with the latter court whether it will hear the case. A refusal of supreme court to hear the case would result in the issuance of a mandate from the circuit court to the marshals of the district of Indiana for the return of the men to Leavenworth and the prisoners then would have no further recourse.

Chester H. Krum concluded the argument for the appellants and District Attorney Charles W. Miller for the government.

superintendent of highways at which it was agreed that Fowler should get all the division engineers of the highway department and have them collect from the contractors. This Fowler did. Hennessey said and turned the money over to Mr. Mack. At the outset of his examination Hennessey detailed a conversation he had with Eugene S. Wood of New York, in regard to the nomination of Edward McCall for supreme court justice in 1912. He said that Wood told him that former police inspector McLaughlin paid McCall's campaign assessment when the latter ran for supreme court justice and that, owing to delinquency in the payment, McLaughlin had threatened to sue him.

Hennessey said further, that Wood had told him McCall was not Murphy's original choice for mayor but that the Tammany leader had been reported to him by McGuire between Everett Fowler of Kingston, Norman E. Mack and C. Gordon Reil, then

COMMISSION TO DETERMINE SANITY OF MRS. VON CLAUSSEN

Woman Who Threatened to Sue
Roosevelt Now Threatens to Shoot
New York Attorney.

New York, Oct. 31.—Application for a commission to determine the sanity of Mrs. Ida Von Clausen was made to Judge Malone by the district attorney today on behalf of her brother, Mrs. Von Clausen, who gained notoriety several years ago when she threatened to sue President Roosevelt for $1,000,000 because the American minister to Sweden would not present her to King Oscar, was arrested on her arrival from Europe yesterday on a charge of threatening to shoot Charles Straus, a lawyer.

Judge Malone indicated that he would appoint the commission.

Senator LaFayette Young of Iowa

was the principal speaker.

Fireworks at Clinton.

Clinton, Iowa, Oct. 31.—The crossing of the Mississippi river by the Lincoln Highway was celebrated by an automobile parade and display of fireworks tonight.

Celebrate at Omaha

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 31.—Three hundred miles of bon fires, distributed along the route from Omaha to North Platte Nebraska burned tonight in honor of the new Lincoln highway.

The route of the highway through Nebraska will follow the Platte Valley, touching most of the cities and towns on Union Pacific railway.

Attorney General Lucey Holds That

the Institute is a Public Corporation.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 31.—Officers and employees of the Illinois Farmers' institute are not under the state civil service laws and rules, according to an opinion given today by Attorney General Lucey. The attorney general holds that the institute is a public corporation, created by special act of the legislature, and that as such its officers and employees mentioned in the act are its own officers and employees and the state, H. A. McKee, secretary of the institute in commenting on the opinion, said that it would not mean the removal of any of the employees in his office.

NEW INCOME TAX LAW IS EFFECTIVE TODAY

Operation of the Law Today
Effects Only Banks, Corporations and Similar Institutions

MANY POINTS NOW IN DISPUTE

Thousands of Letters Have Been Received at the Treasury Department Bringing Up for Settlement Points in the New Law

"WALL STREET" AT SEA AS TO MEANING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The income tax, the most revolutionary revenue raising power conferred on the American government since its foundation starts tomorrow upon the path that is to bring millions into the public treasury. Although an income tax has been agitated for many years and its existence was assured by an amendment to the constitution agreed to by the necessary number of states early last spring, its collection by a government which has not tried it, will strain the resources of the fertile minds in the treasury departments and will be accompanied it is not doubted here, with a thousand complications not now foreseen.

Ever since President Wilson signed the tariff bill with its income tax provision early in the present month, the machinery of the treasury department has been at work upon the regulations that are to govern the collection of the tax. Thousands of letters and telegrams bringing up for settlement points in the new law have poured into the department. The operation of the law tomorrow, it is explained, effects only banks, corporations and others responsible for payment on bonds, mortgages, salaries, etc.

For such part as they are bound by the law they must withhold at the source.

"Wall Street" in Confusion.

New York, Oct. 31.—That part of New York which is referred to vaguely as "Wall Street," was in a state of confusion today. For once in its career Wall Street did not know which way to turn. The new income tax law becomes effective tomorrow and some of the highest priced lawyers, bankers and corporation officials in the world confessed that they were completely at sea as to its meaning. At 7 o'clock tonight a group of men emerged from the darkened, cavernous interior of one of the largest banks in the downtown district. In the group were the president and vice-president of the bank. They had just concluded the last of a series of lengthy conferences which have been held every evening this week after business hours. The subject of all these conferences was the income tax law.

"We're swimming in mud," said one of these officers expressively. "For a day or two I thought I myself was coming to know what was meant by the income tax and the treasury regulations concerning it but now I'm convinced that I hardly know anything about them and my fellow officers know less."

The chief source of trouble is that portion of the law which provides for the collection "at this source" of tax derived from incomes, mortgages and certain other obligations. Banks and corporations are required to withhold this tax in making payments of interests due to holders of securities. More than $80,000,000 is due tomorrow in November interest payments in New York.

The ruling in question has given rise to endless confusion in cases in which bonds are not registered in the names of their owners or are not known to the banks or fiscal agents to whom coupons are sent for payment. The identity of owners must be established to determine whether the tax is to be deducted. Certain exemptions have been defined. Every lawyer and bank officer in New York has life made a burden by clients who wish to know which of the six forms of exemption apply to their particular cases. There are no precedents to apply. No system has yet been evolved whereby banks and other agencies which are called upon to make bond interest payments will be able to determine what cases to deduct the income tax.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE EMPLOYES NOT UNDER CIVIL SERVICE LAWS

Attorney General Lucey Holds That
the Institute is a Public Corporation.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 31.—In the breach of promise trial brought by Miss Ada M. Cox, Rockford, Ill., against William Rufus Edwards, St. Paul lumber merchant, the reading of depositions and evidence from the former trial of the case was continued today. The evidence today concerned alleged visits of Miss Cox to Rochester and to an office in Chicago. Late in the day Edwards was recalled to the witness stand to testify concerning a settlement he is said to have made with Miss Cox in July 1911. The alleged settlement was made for a consideration of $250 according to testimony and was acknowledged by a notary public.

When asked by Miss Cox's attorney if he did not testify at the first trial that Miss Cox had threatened to cause him trouble under the Mann act unless he paid her a stipulated sum, Edwards replied "I don't remember."

INDIANAPOLIS CAR MEN DECLARE STRIKE

STRIKERS ARE PAID OFF BY COM-PANY WHICH WILL FIGHT ISSUE

Striking Motormen and Conductors
Demand Better Hours and Better
Wages—Company is Employing Strike-breakers and Trouble is Anticipated.

BULLETIN

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—The regular owl car service on the Indianapolis street car lines was started at two o'clock this morning. Strike breakers manned the cars and on each two policeman and special officers employed by the company. The crowd in the business district had not diminished and it was feared that any attempt of the company to resume service at 5 o'clock, this morning would cause rioting. A negro was killed when struck by a patrol wagon which was being driven through a crowded street this morning.

Employees of the street railway and traction companies of Indianapolis went on strike at 11 o'clock tonight. Twenty minutes later practically every car had been returned to the barns and deserted by the strikers. Whether the companies will attempt to operate the cars again tonight officials would not say.

The decision of the motormen and conductors to strike, is the climax of two months' effort on their part to get the companies to consider their demands for higher wages, shorter hours, recognition of the union and future arbitration of all differences.

Paying Off All Strikers.

That the companies will not try to operate the cars before morning is indicated by the fact that they are paying off the strikers as fast as they reach the barns and have asked strike-breakers to take the cars out on the regular runs at 5 o'clock in the morning.

Later the crowds became unruly and two cars were stoned by the strikers and two persons probably fatally injured. A mob attacked the Louisiana street car barns near the business district and after cutting the trolley wires, smashed the airbrakes. At the West Washington street barns two hundred men quit work.

The street railroad officials announced at midnight that they would continue to try to operate the regular and owl cars during the night.

In the business district the police repeatedly charged the crowds in an effort to clear the streets but failed to accomplish their purpose.

Will Surrender Arms.

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 31.—After having arranged for a voluntary surrender of arms tomorrow by the Ludlow strike colony. Adjutant General Chase received word tonight that the strikers in the colony had under cover of darkness transferred practically all their ammunition and arms, using automobiles. Believing that some of the munitions have been smuggled into this city, a detachment of a hundred infantrymen were assigned to begin a search of likely places.

Tonight General Chase held a conference with representatives of the operators and requested them to disarm and discharge their guards tomorrow, subsequent to the disarmament of the Ludlow camp. The general stated that if his request was not complied with, the troops ordered into the mining camp would arrest the men.

Announcement of the action of State Federation of Labor executive board in Denver when John Lennox, chairman of that body, was given authority to devise means for carrying out the proposal for arranging a state-wide strike of all union men in sympathy with the coal miners, created much speculation here tonight.

Three mine guards today were arrested by the troops at Berwind after they had fired several shots in the air with their rifles. Several guards whom troops believed have been abusing their deputy sheriff's commissions were dismissed today at Aguilar.

Merchants Use Influence.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 31.—The offer of the copper operators to re-employ, regardless of nationality, those of its striking miners and trammers who will give up their membership in the Western Federation of Miners and who have not been identified with any strike violence today, resulted in a movement to prevail upon the Finnish strikers to return to work. It is said the Finns make up nearly fifty per cent of the men on strike.

Union officials, however, express confidence that the Finns will continue loyal to the organization.

WEALTHY LUMBER MERCHANT DOES NOT REMEMBER HIS FORMER TESTIMONY

ST. PAUL, Oct. 31.—In the breach of promise trial brought by Miss Ada M. Cox, Rockford, Ill., against William Rufus Edwards, St. Paul lumber merchant, the reading of depositions and evidence from the former trial of the case was continued today. The evidence today concerned alleged visits of Miss Cox to Rochester and to an office in Chicago. Late in the day Edwards was recalled to the witness stand to testify concerning a settlement he is said to have made with Miss Cox in July 1911. The alleged settlement was made for a consideration of $250 according to testimony and was acknowledged by a notary public.

When asked by Miss Cox's attorney if he did not testify at the first trial that Miss Cox had threatened to cause him trouble under the Mann act unless he paid her a stipulated sum, Edwards replied "I don't remember."

TENTATIVELY AGREE TO 4 RESERVE BANKS

Senate Committee Agrees Upon
Four Regional Reserve Banks for Proposed Currency System

MAY ADD ADDITIONAL BANKS

Agreement Is Made With Proviso That After Two Years the Board May Add
Additional Banks as Needed

NO WORD FROM THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The senate banking and currency committee tonight tentatively agreed upon four regional reserve banks for the proposed currency system, with a proviso that after two years the federal reserve board may add many additional banks as it deems necessary not exceeding twelve. The pending bill fixes the number to twelve and it is understood that the administration would not agree to have it reduced below nine.

The sharp reduction in the number of reserve banks was the first radical amendment the committee has agreed upon and it was earnestly opposed by the administration supporters in the committee. Senators O'Gorman and Hitchcock, however voted with the five Republicans, leaving but five Democrats—Owen, Pomerene, Hollis, Reed and Sharfath—behind the administration proposal.

White House Silent.

The white house was silent tonight as to the committee's action but it has been generally supposed that the president was vigorously opposing the cutting the number below twelve. The committee still has pending the proposal to abandon entirely the administration regional plan and to create a government controlled central bank. There is also pending Senator Reed's proposal that the unification of the regional banks be accomplished by the creation of a government clearing house which would act as reserve receiver. The question of the capital stock ownership of the proposed regional banks was taken up immediately after the number was tentatively fixed but no decision was reached in the matter. Chairman Owen after the committee adjourned expressed the opinion that the bill would be amended to eliminate the administration provision under which banks would be forced to subscribe the capital of the regional banks. The stock, he said, probably would be thrown open to public subscription. Stockholders would have no voice in the management of the banks, he said, which would be entrusted to a board of directors to be appointed by the federal reserve board thus ensuring government control. The capitalization of the four regional banks, Senator Owen said, probably would amount to $100,000,000.

Contest Every Step.

The administration supporters contested every step in the reduction of the number of regional banks. Two of them voted to retain the number at twelve and three voted for ten banks. The proposal to fix the number at eight was defeated seven to five and by the same vote the number was fixed at four. The proposition to insert the proviso that the federal reserve board might increase the number after two years up to twelve was voted into the bill with only two members opposing it. The committee hopes to settle the ownership and control of the regional banks tomorrow and it is expected with this matter disposed of the serious question in dispute will be speedily adjusted. Tomorrow the committee will recess to allow various members to go to their homes for the elections, considerations of the bill going over until Wednesday.

FRIDAY IN CONGRESS.

Senate.
Not in session.
Meets Monday.
Banking committee met in executive session.

House.

Met at noon.
Consideration of a resolution of sympathy with Winston Churchill's naval holiday program postponed.
Adjourned at 10:23 p. m. to noon Saturday.

HALLOWEEN PARTIES.

Aside from the young folks and older ones too, having a good time. Halloween passed off very quietly in the city last night. No reports come from any quarter of misconduct or damage to property and the police report the quietest Halloween in the history of Jacksonville. The following are some of the parties held:

Miss Helen Obermeyer gave a Halloween party last night at her home on North Church street in honor of her guest, Miss Pauline Stone of Greenville. The reception hall was decorated in pink, green and red. In the parlor, orange and black were the colors. Jack-o'-lanterns, black cats and other Halloween emblems also being found here. The dining room was in orange and black and the living room in red and green. In the games played prizes were won by Lucile Johns, Evert Whisler and Robert Lee. Some palatable refreshments were served.

The traveling men who make their headquarters at the Dunlap House during the week end, gave a Halloween party at the hotel Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Foulk. The affair was also in the nature of a farewell for them as Mr. Foulk has given over the management of the hotel to F. M. Brewer of Carlinville, who will take charge today. A banquet was served in the dining room of the hotel, which had been elaborately decorated in keeping with the Halloween season and James Haley acted as toastmaster, calling on a number for speeches. The evening proved a most delightful one and Mr. and Mrs. Foulk were the recipients of many good wishes. Among those present were James Haley, J. W. Van Valzali, Edward Blagrove, J. C. Spiker, L. J. Karacich, Sherman Primley of Chicago, N. W. Bridges of Chicago, H. N. Hollobow of Chicago, Miss Florence Kennedy, Miss Lida Parwell, Miss Marie Brainer, Mrs. Watkins of Chandlerville, Miss Lucy Gray, Miss Susie Sage, Miss Katherine Marshall and H. H. Clay of Peoria.

Miss Isabel Woodman entertained about thirty friends at a Halloween party at her home on West Lafayette avenue Friday evening. The home was decorated in keeping with the occasion and the dining room was made especially attractive. Katherine Wilson and Ella Eugenia Woodman were dressed as witches, Helen Walton and Florence Leonard Masters as ghosts and Miss Anna Day dressed as a spook, told the fortunes of the young people. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing Halloween games and refreshments appropriate to the occasion were served.

Miss Ruth Fenstermaker entertained her Sunday school class and a few friends at a Halloween party at her home on South East street Friday evening. The house was decorated in yellow and black and Halloween games were played, prizes being awarded to Helen Paschall, Clarence Ratachak and Leonard Potter. Refreshments were served. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. W. H. Brainer, Mrs. George Sargent and Mrs. Claude Vall, teacher of the class. Among those present were Gladys Sargent, Helen Paschall, Katherine Rapp, Gladys Ferreira, Ila Ferreira, Frances Claus, Dorothy Brainer, Nellie Priest, Harold Starks, Clarence Ratachak, Wilbert Hauck, William Bertram, William Bartlett, Leonard Potter, Lloyd Ogle, Russel Pinkerton and Claude Vall.

Miss Ursula Fawcett entertained a number of friends at a Halloween party last night, given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fawcett, 741 West North street. A fine three course dinner was served at 6 o'clock and in the games played prizes were won by Noraine Dorgan, Helen Jackson, Mrs. Fawcett was assisted by Miss Irene Montgomery and Mrs. Van Matre. The decorations were in keeping with the Halloween celebration and every one had a splendid time. The guests were Misses Margaret Spencer of Murrayville, Louise Struck, Virginia Whitley, Mary Gault, Gertrude Benson, Irene Miller, Florence Cox, Josephine Miller, Lillian Mitchell, Helen Jackson, Noraine Dorgan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hollinger entertained a company of little neighborhood children at a Halloween party Friday evening at their home on South Prairie street. Several days ago Mrs. Hollinger sent out invitations to the guests, informing them to be ready at a certain hour on Halloween evening and Mr. Hollinger would call for them in his "Halloween automobile." The "automobile" proved to be a wheelbarrow gayly decorated and having a large box with faces, a moon and stars cut in the sides. Mr. Hollinger dressed himself appropriately for the occasion and called for his little guests, taking them to his house. The home was very prettily decorated with pumpkin faces and other Halloween novelties. In the dining room a small table was arranged lighted with candles and on each napkin was a black witch riding a broom. The table was decorated with crepe paper and the room with autumn leaves, owls and black cats and on the sideboard was a large decorated pumpkin face. The little folks spent a very enjoyable evening and refreshments were served. The guests were: Louise McCarty, Mary Helen McCarty, Ursula Brockhouse, Louise Jenkinson and Elizabeth Stark.

The Domestic Science Club of Murrayville gave a Halloween party last night at the home of Miss Emma Rimbey. After all had assembled the ladies went up stairs and masked and upon appearing below they passed before the gentlemen who guessed each one. The ladies then passed again unmasked and there were many surprised. The menagerie was an interesting place. Paste board boxes had been made and placed on the sides of the walls and each box contained a wild animal. "Who's Who?" was also an amusing part of the entertainment. Refreshments of an elaborate kind were served and fireworks made a noisy close for the happy evening. The decorations were unique in the Halloween ideas.

Mrs. Bernard Gause entertained a company of children at a Halloween party at her home on North Church street Friday afternoon for her son, Bernard. The guest list included about thirty and the afternoon was very pleasantly spent in playing games. The house was beautifully decorated in keeping with the Halloween season and the same idea was carried out in the refreshments.

Members of Minnetonka council No. 71, Tribe of Pochontas met last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carter on South Main street. The house was decorated in pumpkins, corn stalks, jack-o'-lanterns and the thirty-five present spent a most enjoyable evening. Refreshments in keeping with the event were served.

Mrs. Joseph L. Smith entertained her Sunday school class of the First Baptist church at a Halloween party given at her home, 1455 North Fayette street. The house was beautifully decorated with things pertaining to Halloween. Jack-o'-lanterns of various kinds with red lights were in the parlor, the sitting room looked like a corn field with pumpkins scattered here and there; here also red lights were used with jack-o'-lanterns; the dining room was in green and orange, with green lights. In the attic a gipsy tent was pitched where all the girls had their fortunes told. Various games were played during the evening and refreshments in keeping with the occasion were served. The evening proved a happy one in every way. The girls in the class are Dorothy Chipease, Cera Peters, Evaline Benadict, Hilda Aton, Irene Withee, Ethel Abel, Ethel McLaughlin, Mildred Fronerberger, Florence Haley, Ellen McCurley, Noraine Lorgan.

The Rebekah lodge of Franklin gave a masquerade party in Olinger's opera house Friday evening, which was attended by a large crowd. The house was decorated in the Halloween emblems and a merry time was had. Light refreshments were served.

The Epworth league of the Murrayville M. E. church gave a masquerade Halloween party in the basement of the church last night. Various games were played and music was part of the entertainment. Halloween refreshments were served and all reported a splendid time.

Mrs. Nellie Gunn entertained her Sunday school class, with their friends last evening at an enjoyable Halloween and "kitchen party." Soon after their arrival, the guests were clad in cooks' aprons and assigned the preparation of a certain portion of the supper. The meal was prepared in good style and was enjoyed by everyone speaks well for the skill of the young people and the expert culinary instruction they received. Halloween games were played, not the least of which was the telling of fortunes by the witch. Miss Eleanor Ironmonger, assisted by the "ghost" Miss Virginia Gunn.

Miss Grace Moses of North Fayette street was the recipient Friday evening of a pleasant surprise in honor of her birthday, combined with a genuine Halloween social. She returned from a visit in the early part of the evening and found to her astonishment that a company of her friends had taken possession of the house and had decorated the rooms with tokens of Halloween. Alfred Anderson won the prize for guessing the most costumes and Miss Nellie McCarty received the award for the best disguise. Among guests from out of town were Harry Black of Mt. Sterling and Mrs. Nellie Moses and daughter Bernadine of Concord.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wiley entertained a company of friends at a Halloween masquerade party at their home, five miles southeast of Alexander, Friday night in honor of Mr. Wiley's sister, Mrs. Alva Wynne of Norfolk, Va. The decorations and refreshments were in keeping with the occasion and the guests spent a very delightful time playing games. Mrs. Wynne and her two children expect to return to their home Monday after a two months' visit with relatives in Illinois.

CREAMERY MEN ATTEND CHICAGO CONVENTION.

L. T. Potter Made Address at National Gathering—Subjects of General Interest.

The 17th annual convention of the National Creamery Butter Makers Association has been in session in Chicago for the past three days. Men interested in dairy and creamery products from all parts of the country have been in attendance and the program has been of very special interest, not only to the delegates at the convention but to the general public as well. Jacksonville people will be interested in knowing that the floor during the session of L. T. Potter, manager of the Jacksonville Creamery made an address on "The Golden Rule in the Creamery Business" which was followed by a general discussion. Mr. Potter has not been identified with the creamery business for a very extended period but he has already won something of a reputation among creamery managers of this state by the fact that he was asked to appear on the program before the National Convention was something of a compliment. Thursday afternoon of the convention was devoted in visiting Chicago markets and creamery exhibits. The butter makers were all made welcome at the various butter sellers and were accorded the privilege of the floor during the session of the Chicago Butter and Egg Board. In connection with the convention there was an exhibit of butter for which medals and other prizes were awarded. The judges of butter were C. E. Lee of Madison, Wisconsin; O. A. Storvik, St. Paul, Minn.; and J. J. Ross of Iowa Falls, Iowa.

MRS. CARRIEL RETURNS FROM SOUTH AMERICA

HAS BEEN AWAY FROM CITY NEARLY A YEAR.

Spends Eight Months With Her Son Rev. C. A. Carriel in Sao Paulo, Brazil—Something About the City and Its College.

Mrs. Mary F. Carriel returned yesterday from South America after an absence of about a year, eight months of which she spent with her son, Rev. C. A. Carriel, in Sao Paulo, Brazil. She says the trip from New York occupies three weeks and for thirteen days after they left the great metropolis they saw no signs of life and at last a school of flying fish and a whale supplied the first sight of a living thing.

She started for home August 25, and at New York was met by her niece, Mrs. Bessie Turner McPherson, who took her to Chicago and insisted on a protracted visit. From that place she went to visit her son Howard in Marquette, Michigan, and reached home yesterday as stated.

Sao Paulo is a large city. Sao Paulo is a city of something like half a million inhabitants and is located south of Rio Janeiro and 1500 miles south of the equator. It is a beautiful city, the houses being made of marble or white stone or dark stone covered with white cement. Most of the homes of the well-to-do are surrounded by walls and a gate which is locked and are generally handsome and attractive structures. The streets are fine, well shaded with trees carefully cultivated and trimmed so that the walks by them are well shaded.

The place is fairly well governed, especially as far as the wealthier portions are concerned though the poor are very poor and have a hard time in life. The people are as a rule conservative and not as frank and cordial as those of places farther north. Just now the city is suffering with a financial panic and by some it is said to be caused by the New York manipulation of the coffee market and that makes the people feel edgewise toward the missionaries though they have not suffered any indignities. One banker was favored by the governor who loaned him from the public treasury over thirteen million dollars and saved the doors from being closed and other bankers fared worse and had to liquidate.

Sao Paulo is fifty miles from the ocean and is reached by a cable and cog railroad owned by English capital. They have no competition and their earnings are great but the government doesn't permit them to distribute more than fifteen per cent so they have erected elegant stations, costly bridges and viaducts and have tried in all ways possible to use their money and not turn any of it into the coffers of the government of Sao Paulo.

Winters are unpleasant. The city is located on an eminence some 3000 feet above sea level and the winters there are very unpleasant as a rule. There is much dampness and chilly weather yet no one thinks of having fire for heating purposes and sometimes it is very uncomfortable though Mrs. Carriel says the past winter was unusually mild and she felt hardly any inconvenience at all. Of course, it is tropical and sweet to the vicissitudes of such a land but it has many attractions.

Italian immigrants are doing much to develop the country and are fast acquiring property there. They go in as laborers, work on the farms, become money and many of them are becoming land owners. The poor people live poorly indeed. Bananas are wild and abundant and form a staple article of food and in addition black beans and rice are a large portion of a poor man's diet. The wealthy have much the same food that is used in this country though many vegetables are dear for the city has grown faster than the truck gardens and then ants make fearful havoc with a garden when once they begin on it. Hacksters come to the front and become acquainted, they generally patronize certain ones regularly so that the servants are not kept busy answering the bell at the gate when vegetable peddlers have wares to sell.

Son is instructor in English. Mrs. Carriel's son is chaplain and instructor in English and Bible literature in Mackenzie college, an institution sustained by the Presbyterian church of this country. It has 600 students in the preparatory department and about 400 in the college proper. It is fairly well equipped with scientific apparatus and the general outfit of a first class college but it only attempts to teach college branches and not law or medicine. There are seven professors from the United States and three native and the work done there is excellent, the students being sought in many directions for places of trust and prominence.

The language is pure Portuguese and Mr. Carriel bent himself closely to it and before the end of a year he could preach in the native tongue. His language has been commended by educated natives and he now talks it like one to the manner born. Though it is distinctively a Protestant institution with Biblical study compulsory, there are but about 24 Protestant young men in the college proper, all the rest being communicants of the Roman Catholic church. Mr. Carriel endeavors to work with his students in a kindly manner not urging upon them any domestic views but teaching the truth as he sees it and the result is a friendly feeling between himself and the students. He often invites a number to his home and in many suitable ways endeavors to win their confidence and esteem and with good success. They come from all parts of the country, even the most remote and the effort is to send them out equipped to deal with the questions that are rapidly coming to the front everywhere. He preaches and talks with the students and tries to send them out well prepared for the battle of life and ready and willing to lend a hand in making the land better and happier.

There is sometimes a feeling against missions and that has been known to pass away. Ten years ago there was a certain young priest who was especially active in persecuting a little band of converts and he was verily like Paul, thinking he was doing right. This year the Presbytery to which Mr. Carriel belongs held its annual sessions in the town in which this priest lives and as the hotel accommodations were scant and undesirable he rented a hall and supplied it with forty beds at his own expense for the benefit of the ministers attending Presbytery. Of course not all of them are so liberal but the feeling is increasing right along.

College on Valuable Site. The college in Sao Paulo had a small beginning but it is great now. It is located on land given by Mrs. Chamberlain, widow of Dr. Chamberlain, an early missionary to Brazil. It was then in the outskirts of the city but the latter has grown all around it and now the site is very valuable.

Mr. Carriel's house is near the college and is a lovely home. It is surrounded by trees and in every way desirable except that it doesn't have windows so situated that the sun will shine into them whenever it is shining at all.

The houses have generally modern conveniences, sewer, electricity and the like and some attention is paid to sanitation. In ordinary times they are especially proud of their water supply and well they may be for it is fine, coming down the mountains in a clear, limpid stream, ready for all sorts of uses. The last summer was unusually hot and dry and the place caught it as did all the rest.

Their house is surrounded by verandas and these in turn are covered with rose vines and other growths which are very beautiful. Their table is set with plain and wholesome food but living is very dear there and several missionaries have been obliged to give up their work on that account. The poor eat black beans and rice mostly but others have to have a greater variety. Mr. and Mrs. Carriel are happy and enthusiastic in their work and would not be induced by any means to abandon it. Like all devoted missionaries they have the love of their Master and that overshadows all else and gives them a grand inspiration in all they do. Their health so far is good and many years of usefulness doubtless will be granted them.

PETER D. MEGGINSON AMONG BEST MORGAN COUNTY FARMERS

Republican Candidate for Commissioner is Thoroughly Qualified for Position He Seeks.

The Republican candidate for county commissioner is Peter D. Megginson and he is certainly a man who needs no introduction to the voters of Morgan county. During his terms of service on the county board Mr. Megginson has given careful and intelligent attention to the county's business and the same successful methods which he applies to his own business affairs were used for the benefit of the public. Mr. Megginson's farm six miles west of Jacksonville is one of the beauty spots of Morgan county from an agricultural standpoint. Everything there is kept in splendid condition and there is on every hand evidence of the industry and well directed care bestowed by the owner. The same characteristics which are apparent there mark the public service of Mr. Megginson and the people will have a feeling of security that their interests are well cared for if he is chosen a member of the county board. As now composed all members of the board are Democratic and there has long been a feeling in the county that is not the wisest plan to have the commissioners all plan to one political faith. Mr. Megginson is thoroughly competent and efficient. He is a man of the highest integrity and the voters will do well to give his claims recognition next Tuesday.

MASTER SWINDLER IS AGAIN IN LIME LIGHT

Harry Silberberg, Known in Two Hemispheres as Great Swindler, Is Sued For Divorce.

New York, Oct. 31.—The filing of a suit for divorce in the supreme court here by Mrs. Florence Sophie Williams, daughter of Samuel Newman of the firm of Rothschild & Newman, cotton merchants, against her husband, James Jaffrays Williams, once more brings into the lime light of publicity the name and wonderful career of Harry Silberberg, known in both hemispheres as one of the most accomplished swindlers in history. The men whom Miss Newman married called himself James Jaffrays Williams, but it appears that his real name is Harry Silberberg and that at different times during his varied career he has been known under many other aliases.

Silberberg was born in Atlanta, Ga., about forty-five years ago. His father was a ribbi who had come to this country from Russia and had accumulated a fortune by becoming a blockade runner during the civil war. Young Harry did not obtain a very thorough education, but began to work in one of his father's stores when he was less than fifteen years of age. At his father's death Harry Silberberg became the part owner of a chain of profitable stores in Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas. For a while he devoted himself to his business and made a success of it, but horse racing, gambling and women proved his undoing and soon he had not only run through his fortune, but run deeply in debt.

For a while Silberberg had a good position in California as a writer of advertisements, but his fast life again caused him to run in debt and he ran away to Mexico. There he ventured his first swindling operation, but was caught and sentenced to three years imprisonment. His persuasive manner won him the friendship of the governor of Chihuahua and after a few days in prison Silberberg was paroled and became the secretary of the governor. While he held that position Silberberg devoted himself to the study of English, Spanish and French and also studied a book on etiquette to improve his society manners.

With $500 in his pocket Silberberg left Mexico and went to New York. He obtained a good position as an advertisement writer, but debts soon compelled him to leave the city. Taking the name of Whitney he went to Baltimore and after swindling a few days in prison he went to Rochester, taking the name of J. C. Davis. It was under that name that he married there for the first time. The bride was the daughter of a wealthy lumberman and she left him on their wedding trip, when he was arrested for obtaining $4,600 on forged drafts. She subsequently obtained a divorce and Silberberg went to Europe, where he traveled extensively, swindling many wealthy persons and thus obtaining money and credit which enabled him to live in princely style.

Upon the advice of an Austrian countess, whom he met in Vienna and with whom he became intimate, he began to pose as J. Cunningham Drayton, a connection of the Astors. Under that name he gained admission to the most exclusive circles in Austria and other European countries and wherever he went he left a trail of swindling operations, unpaid debts and forged papers. While in London Silberberg was arrested for some swindling operations in Germany. He was extradited and sentenced to three years in prison.

He was paroled after a few months and returned to the United States. He sought the mild climate of Texas and there married a wealthy girl in Houston, who also obtained a divorce. Then he went to Denver,

GENERAL CARRANZA, EVARISTO MADERO, BENJAMIN MADERO.

General Carranza has become one of the leading opponents of President Huerta of Mexico. He has a large following among the soldiers. The imprisonment of Evaristo and Benjamin Madero has added new fuel to the revolutionary flames. Many people believe that these two relatives of the late President Madero will never be seen again. They were arrested at the order of President Huerta.

where he entered the political field and by Governor Thomas was appointed a commissioner to raise funds for a special mining exhibit at the Paris exposition. Silberberg collected $40,000, but the money never reached Paris. Later he stumped Montana for Senator W. A. Clark, who made him editor of one of his papers.

Soon Silberberg grew tired of the life of an editor and went to New York, where he lived in great style at the Waldorf-Astoria. He became acquainted with a handsome and clever woman, who believed him to be the real Mr. J. Coleman Drayton and joined him on a trip around the world, posing as his wife. They traveled in luxurious style, were received and feted by rulers, princes and high officials in the various countries and had no difficulty in obtaining money and credit. Returning to the United States Silberberg committed many large swindling operations and then returned to London, where he promoted a $10,000,000 railroad scheme in Chile, obtaining from bankers and others several hundred thousand dollars. He was exposed, but not arrested to avoid scandalous disclosures which would have been unavoidable had he been prosecuted.

STAND FAST, JACKSONVILLE.

Oakland, Ill., Oct. 30, 1913. Editor Journal:

You have no idea how many eyes are on you, and how many cities in Illinois are waiting anxiously the result of the battle of the ballots on next Tuesday. As six years ago, Paris, Decatur, Rockford, said "If Jacksonville can vote out the saloons, so can we!" You were the first large city to act under the local option law, and your act stimulated courage elsewhere. Now, Illinois women are watching their sisters of your city. Will they fail? The one most impressive sight of that campaign in 1907, was the presence of cultured, wealthy, young and elderly women in the parade, with the banner of the flag and the children, saying: "Please protect us!" Women! Help the men to keep the cleanest city in Illinois clean! Your attitude and your act will put strength in a hundred elections next spring. We are watching and hoping for you. Yours for our old home city,

C. R. Morrison, Margaret Rees Morrison.

FRENCH PEOPLE LEAVING FARMS IN VAST NUMBERS

Workers on Farms Have Declined Forty Percent Numerically Since 1862—Abandon the Soil for Better Paid Work.

The migration of farmers from the country to the city has progressed at such a rapid rate in France that statesmen are much concerned over the outcome. They are fearful lest the abandonment of the farms by the hardy French peasantry shall lead to the introduction of foreign peasantry.

Although there were 4,000,000 persons employed in agricultural France in 1862, 3,500,000 in 1882, and 3,000,000 in 1892, there are only 2,300,000 persons now employed in agricultural pursuits. Thus in half a century, agricultural labor has decreased over 40 per cent, the steady increase in agricultural production making the employment of foreign labor a necessity. Every summer troops of foreign workers pass through France offering their valuable help to the farmers. The native agricultural laborers will not stay in the country, and the substitution has become necessary. The French hired men claim they cannot make a sufficient income out of the produce of their day's work on the farm. Irregular work, long periods of enforced idleness, poverty resulting from bad harvests, the frequent recurrence of hail, blight and mildew, all induce them to abandon the soil and look elsewhere for better paid work. In certain mountainous regions it is said that the small farmers are so idle during the long winter months that their earnings are not sufficient to cover the expenses of the whole year. It is no wonder, then, that the ambitious peasantry of France are seeking a livelihood elsewhere.

Obviously this is a perplexing problem that France is facing. A permanent migration from the soil to the city, extending over five decades without cessation, is a serious condition in any nation. The solution of the problem as France works it out will be studied with interest by the statesmen of a great many other nations—Farmers' Twice-A-Week Dispatch.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

If you want a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box.

Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. (Adv.)

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

The haughty national commission is going to swallow the bait, hook and sinker in one long gulp. Ban Johnson has followed Garry Herrmann and has had himself interviewed regarding the differences between the players and the baseball governing board. Friday morning's papers print of his opinion in full, and like the supreme court which reversed itself twice in twenty-four hours, the chubby Ban has reversed the "plausible" Garry and "backed water" on all of his own previous edicts. In his interview the former "swell" of the national commission has been banished to the canyons, and now the poor downtrodden player, according to Mr. Johnson, will be granted concessions without any friction. It is not concessions the players are to battle for. They are asking a square deal and freedom from the slavery that now entralls them. The men who have made and are now harvesting millions of American dollars from the handwork of the baseball player must grant the demands of the latter; the cannot and they will not be appeased by any sort of "concession" that may be handed out by Garry, Ban and Tom. Mr. Lynch is now due for an interview, and when Tom's side of the controversy is printed he is likely to reverse Garry and Ban and announce himself as being in favor of granting all of the demands of the players. Such a happy family, this national comish!

Rube Waddell, one of the greatest port-riders the game ever has known is down and out financially and has contracted the white man's plague. The eccentric one base with three years passed through three spells of pneumonia to become afflicted with tuberculosis. He is now preparing to remove for the rest of his life to California or to some one of the other coast states where the climate is mild and free from the rigors prevalent in his native north.

Dave Fultz comes back at the national commission and its head, Garry Herrmann. The president of the players' fraternity lets it be known that he has no desire to go before the commission provided the board of control will grant the players' demands without a hearing. If these demands are not satisfied, Dave gives warning that he will be compelled to take the stand and that he will force the national commission to listen to him.

Comiskey has made Fielder Jones a free agent, and in consequence the baseball air is full of rumors concerning the ex-Sox manager's future. Already the wise "uns have him signed up to manage several different teams. The old St. Louis Browns rag has not yet been sprung, because Banck Rickey has that job clinched for the next ten years.

There was not sufficient friction in the ranks of the Cubs the past season to suit the whims of President Murphy. Just before leaving Chicago Thursday on a trip to Europe he informed the newspaper men that upon his return he was going to prepare to rid his team of its veterans and fill their places with new blood. Youth and speed he said he was going to have and to accomplish his desires he would trade off all of his "old stock." He also let it be known that during his absence Manager Evers could not engineer any of the deals—swapping and selling players was his right only. And this latter declaration is proof positive that all of the past season's rumors were true as to Evers' authority. He was manager of the Cubs in name only, the rest of the route he simply was Murphy's call boy. This latest evaporation of Charles Webb, or Charles Welch, Murphy will have a reverse soothing effect upon such stars as Archer, Tommy Leach, Bresnahan, Heine Zimmerman, Schulte, Budwile and the seven other veteran stars between now and next March, when spring training commences.

The natives of his home town, Bonham, Texas, "watched" Tex. Russell when he came to bat in the third session on Thursday and so pleased was the American league 1913 sensation with the present that after the game he announced he would journey no longer with the brainstormers, but would settle at home for the winter and complete his education in the art of all arts—the printer's trade.

The Missouri Valley football conference is in open rupture over the color question. Kansas, the original harbor for the negro, has drawn the color line in football, and refuses to meet the Nebraska team on November 15 if the latter insists upon playing Ross, the colored guard. Nebraska's chancellor is standing upon his rights and will recognize no "gentleman's agreement" that eliminates an athlete because of his race or color. If a majority of the conference directors sustains Kansas' objection to Ross, Nebraska will cast its lot with the outlaws.

"George Smith is a mighty fine boy and I am glad he is making good on that Michigan Agricultural college football team and in his studies." Thus did Governor Ferris of Michigan express his opinion of the brilliant colored boy who is one of the main-stays in the Aggy line up.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM.
George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began the use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Alcott, druggist—Adv.

SEMI-FINAL GAMES IN THE "BIG NINE" STRUGGLES TODAY

TWO UNDEFEATED ELEVENS MEET AT CHICAGO FOR BATTLE

Maroons and the Illini Clash for Honors on Marshall Field—Minnesota and Wisconsin Meet at Madison—Day's Results Will Show Line on Conference Championship.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Semi-final games in the struggle for "big nine" football honors will be played tomorrow. At Madison, Minnesota and Wisconsin clash, at Chicago, two undefeated elevens, Maroons and Illini, meet. Chances favor the elimination through defeat of two of the four teams involved and since Chicago later plays both Minnesota and Wisconsin and Illinois takes on the Gophers, a pretty good line on the conference championship can be drawn at the end of the day.

Wisconsin's team, composed largely of veterans who won the 1912 title for the Madison school, has been a disappointment this year. But critics point out that its defeat by the Michigan Aggies and its tie game with Purdue were due to its own weakness and predict that the Badgers will prove an unpleasant surprise to the Gophers if they figure on an easy victory. Minnesota also suffered defeat at the hands of a non-conference team this year but its conquerors, Nebraska, had a strong team in the field and the Gophers themselves are not weak. The loss of Vruwink, who was declared ineligible, will not prove a very serious handicap to the Maroons. It must be remembered that they played the greater part of Iowa game without him. Huntington turning out to be a worthy substitute. Early games this year have found the Chicago team remarkably able to rise to the occasion. Tightly pressed by Iowa and Purdue they developed just enough strength to beat their opponents and it is probable that Coach Stagg has in reserve maneuvers which he calculates will overcome the defensive power of the Illini.

Planned Many New Plays.
Coach Zuppke is said to have planned a series of plays designed to penetrate the newly strengthened Maroon line and unique formations may be seen in the game. Two important inter-sectional games are on tomorrow's program. Notre Dame's speedy eleven can be depended upon to make a good showing against the army in the game at West Point. In fact many prophets predict a victory for the Indians, who have in Eichenlaub, fullback, a great ground gainer and possessed of fleetness of foot which makes their style of open play dangerous to any team. Probably not Yost himself would venture a guess at the outcome of the game in which Michigan's erratic team meets Syracuse.

The 10-sided victory of the Wolverines over Vanderbilt last week to some critics indicated improvement among them but practice week at Ann Arbor was reported ragged and confidence is lacking among Michigan rooters.

A line on the ability of Ohio State baby member of the "Big Nine," may be drawn from the results of its game with Indiana, its first conference battle of the season.

Important Games.
Illinois vs. Chicago, at Chicago.
Minneapolis vs. Wisconsin, at Madison.
Notre Dame vs. Army, at West Point.
Syracuse vs. Michigan, at Ann Arbor.
Ohio State vs. Indiana, at Columbus.
Missouri vs. Rolla, at Rolla.
Nebraska vs. Ames, at Ames.
Nebraska to Meet Ames.
Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 31.—Twenty strong members of the Nebraska university football squad left this afternoon for Des Moines, where they will spend the night going to Ames, Ia., in the morning for the game tomorrow with the Ames Agricultural college eleven.

Big Game at Cambridge.
New York, Oct. 31.—Eastern football fields will be the scene of some interesting inter-collegiate games tomorrow, although none will rise to the plain of a championship contest. So far as prestige is concerned the Harvard-Cornell game at Cambridge stands forth as the leading eastern gridiron contest of the day. That the contest will develop a sensational feature for the football week end is unlikely; the undefeated crimson combination appears to stand superior to the invaders from the shores of Cayuga Lake. The Yale team will also face a worthy opponent in the strong Colgate aggregation. The Eli eleven will have to play its best to win decisively over the collegians from Hamilton, N. Y.

Princeton Expected to Win.
Princeton in playing Holy Cross will face a team already defeated by Harvard 47 to 7 and Yale 10 to 0. For this reason the game will appeal to those followers of football who persist in the idea that comparative scores form a safe basis for estimating the strength of rival elevens. Princeton, however, is expected to win.

In the southern section of the eastern gridiron world two games of prominence stand out in the Carlisle-

The New Battleship Texas Biggest and Most Powerful Dreadnought of Uncle Sam's Navy.

The newly built battleship Texas, which was recently sent to New England waters for her speed tests, is the largest fighter in the navy and carries a heavier main battery than any other American ship. She is a sister ship to the New York, now being built at the Brooklyn yard.

Georgetown contest at Washington and the Navy-Lehigh clash at Annapolis. It would appear as though the net result of the two games would be an even break from a sectional standpoint, for the Lehigh team does not apparently class with the powerful Navy team. While Georgetown has proved strong and successful in the home games this season, the general play of the Indians has been such as to point to them as the logical winner of the game to be played at the national capital.

Championship Undecided.
Dubuque, Ia., Oct. 31.—The collegiate football championship of Iowa will remain undecided this season. St. Joseph's college and Ellsworth college elevens today played for the honor and neither team scored.

J. H. McNeely and two sons were city shoppers yesterday from Hartland.

FOOTBALL RESULTS

Beloit, Wis., Oct. 31.—Madison High, 55; Beloit, 0.

Norman, Okla., Oct. 31.—Kansas university, 7; Oklahoma university, 21.

At Crawfordsville, Ind.—Wabash college, 22; Franklin college, 0.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX WIN.
Dallas, Tex., Oct. 31.—Hard hitting won for Chicago White Sox over the New York Giants here today, 9 to 3. Mathewson allowed 14 hits, including two doubles and two triples, while Leverenz was in trouble only once.

MOTHER ABANDONS BABE.

Harrisburg, Ill., Oct. 31.—A little girl hardly a year old, thinly clad and shivering from the cold, was found in a shack this morning, deserted by its mother, Mrs. Nellie Oliver. The husband and father left home some weeks ago and has not been heard from. Today the mother left the child to shift for itself. It was learned that she had gone to Fairfield, Ill., to work in a factory. Officers placed the child in an orphan's home.

Notice to Poultry Raisers

We are now manufacturing, under state license, the best brand of chicken food on the market, known as "SUPREME CHICKEN FOOD." This food is far superior to any brand of chicken food on the market today. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food & Drugs Act, June 30, 1906, serial No. 47673. Guaranteed analysis as follows:

CRUDE FAT . . . . . 6 to 8 per cent.
PROTEIN . . . . . 22 to 24 per cent.
FIBRE . . . . . 7 to 9 per cent.

WHAT IS "SUPREME CHICKEN FOOD?"

It is a combination food consisting of meat scrap, steamed bone grit and a small percentage of clam shell grit; all clean and in a uniform size, and can be fed to large and small fowls. "SUPREME CHICKEN FOOD" is guaranteed to make your hens lay. It is the only ideal food for fall and winter use. Put up in 50 and 100 pound bags.

Price per 50 pound bag . . . . . $1.50
Price per 100 pound bag . . . . . $3.00

We are also manufacturing, under state license, the best brand of hog food on the market, known as "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD." It is far superior to any brand of hog food on the market today. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906, Serial No. 47673. Guaranteed analysis as follows:

CRUDE FAT . . . . . 10 to 14 per cent.
CRUDE PROTEIN . . . . . 52.50 to 60 per cent.
CRUDE FIBRE . . . . . 1 to 3 per cent.
PHOSPHATE . . . . . 10 to 12 per cent.

WHAT IS "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE?"

It is a dark colored granular meal, made from meat residues, and it supplies the protein and phosphates necessary for compounding a balanced ration in most economical and palatable form.

It contains phosphates in proper proportion to insure strength of bone and frame work. In the corn belt bone development is a matter of serious consideration.

It is not a substitute for corn, but a small quantity fed in connection with corn or other grains gives a balanced ration.

It is the most economical source of digestible protein known, containing twice as much protein as oil-meal and five times as much as middlings, shorts, shipstuf, or alfalfa meal.

TANKAGE is recommended by all leading experiment stations. It is packed in one-hundred-pound burlap sacks, plainly marked "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD." Analysis as above. It is the ideal feed to balance rations.

WHAT "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" TANKAGE DOES.

It develops bone and muscle in young pigs and makes them grow. It matures a hog for market in two and three months quicker than corn alone, thereby saving one-third of the feed bill, one-third of the labor, one-third of the risk, increasing profits one-third.

It grows better proportioned hogs, more meat, and more fat, hence market-topper hogs. "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" Tankage fed hog ship well with small shrink. While in nowise a medicine, it so fortifies and strengthens the system against attacks of disease germs that "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" TANKAGE fed hogs are universally healthy. Manufactured by the

"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't avoid the fresh air."
"Don't stuff yourself at meal time. Overeating reduces your resistance."

To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by all dealers.—Adv.

MORE SUITS FILED IN THE CIRCUIT COURT

Damages Aggregating More Than $10,000 Asked In Cases Resulting From Auto Accident at Arenzville.

Friday was the last day of service in the Circuit Court and a number of cases were added to the docket, among the more important ones are four cases resulting from the automobile accident which happened several weeks ago at Arenzville, when Charles Pate and Guy B. Wilday were killed and H. L. Deppie was injured. These suits were filed by P. P. Thompson as attorney for the several complainants and damages asked aggregate $42,500. Alta Pate as administratrix of the estate of Charles Pate is suing for $10,000, and Sedonia Wilday as administratrix of the estate of Guy B. Wilday is suing for a like sum. Two suits against the road are filed in behalf of H. L. Deppie one in the sum of $20,000 and the other for $2,500.

Other cases filed are the people vs. A. Fletcher, forgery.

Thomas McCarty vs. S. Frank Sooy and George Mellor, injunction.

Thomas McCarty vs. George Mellor, rescission.

T. E. Lyon vs. Thomas Cannon, bill in chancery.

Ernest G. Kelley vs. Ethel Irene Kelley, divorce.

In this latter suit L. O. Vaught represents the plaintiff who maintains that all the provisions of a contract he entered into last July with Thomas Cannon have not been carried out. It is set forth in the bill that Mr. Lyon traded a farm of 420 acres near Monroe City, Mo., to Mr. Cannon for the stock of groceries the slaughter house, and a residence belonging to the latter. The farm was sold subject to a mortgage of $9,000 and the balance of $7,100 was represented by the property already mentioned. As a part of the contract it was stipulated the stock of groceries was to be taken at a valuation of $2,000 and if it invoiced more than that Mr. Lyon was to pay the difference and if it invoiced less than that Mr. Cannon was to make up the deficiency. Mr. Lyon alleges that Mr. Cannon in invoicing juggled the prices or valuations of some of the articles in the stock and he also maintains that an abstract to the residence property was not furnished as agreed and that the description of the property is in error.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

The total membership of the Cigar-makers' International is 48,457.

More than three million women in the United States are employed in other than household occupation.

Labor organizations of California are dissatisfied with the alien land act, claiming that it is not strong enough.

A workman's compensation law was enacted at the recent session of the legislature in Iowa. The widow's pension law is also to become effective in that state.

Wages paid to farm hands in Ireland have gone up considerably in the last few years, but are still extremely low according to American standards.

Unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor paid per capita tax on 1,703,749 in June, 1912, and in June, 1913, paid per capita tax on 2,026,716, an increase of 322,967.

According to statistics compiled by the United Mine Workers' Journal three men were killed in the mines of the unorganized states, as against one mine laborer killed in the organized states.

According to the report published by the bureau of mines, there were 195 men killed in and about the coal mines of the United States during May, 1913, as compared with 150 during the same month in 1912.

Thirty-six states now forbid the employment of children under the age of 14 years in factories, and 21 states limit the hours of labor for children under the age of 16 to eight hours a day.

Wm. D. Mahon, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway and Electric Railway Employees has been appointed a member of the Detroit municipal street railway board of commissioners.

Fourteen states now have laws pensioning mothers. Illinois was the first to pass such a law, followed by California, Colorado, Washington, Utah, South Dakota, Idaho, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Ohio, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Missouri.

Women employed in the textile industry in Germany are in a majority over the men, there being 400,000 females as against 371,000 men. In the clothing industry the women outnumber the men, there being 228,000 women to 97,000 men employed.

Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union, has been appointed recently by the president of the United States as one of the commissioners to represent the American government at the London conference on safety at sea.

The Musicians' union of San Francisco has amended its laws as to funeral detail. The members will hereafter be chosen in alphabetical order to attend funerals of deceased members and will be paid $3 for the service. A failure to attend or to furnish a substitute will entail a penalty not to exceed $5.

Suit has been brought in the courts of Rhode Island by an ex-prisoner to recover from prison labor contractors wages for his labor during imprisonment. The suit is based on the clause of the state's constitution which prohibits slavery. Should the case be successful it is believed it will do away with the contract system in the prisons not only in Rhode Island, but in every other state where it exists.

CATARH SUFFERERS

Get Immediate and Effective Relief By Using Hyomei.

Hyomei is nature's true remedy for catarrh. There is no stomach dosing—you breathe it.

When using this treatment, you breathe healing balsams and effectively reach the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, the catarrhal germs are destroyed—quick and sure relief results.

Hyomei often restores health to chronic cases that had given up all hope of recovery of the disease when the breath is becoming offensive, and constant sniffling, discharges from the nose, droppings in the throat and frequent sneezing, or that choked up feeling begin to make life a burden.

At the first symptom of catarrhal trouble, such as crusts in the nose, watery eyes, hawking and morning choking, surely use Hyomei and see how quickly you get relief. All druggists sell it.

The complete outfit, including inhaler and bottle of liquid, costs but $1.00; extra bottles of liquid, if later needed, 50 cents. Hyomei is sold with guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction—Adv.

INSECTS COLLECT BIG ANNUAL TAX

RESPONSIBLE FOR LOSS OF TEN PER CENT IN AGRICULTURE.

Figures Present Serious Problems For Solution—Only Five Per Cent of Insects Injurious—Other Big Taxes on Production Levied by Rodents—Seed Eaters Do Vast Damage.

(By Frank C. Pellett, Atlantic City, Iowa. Photos From Life by the Author.)

Scientists estimate that insects are responsible for an annual tax on agricultural products equal to ten per cent of the total production, including lumber. This means that all farm products, such as meat products, dairy, fruit, grains, hay, cotton, vegetables and all the rest including lumber, as above stated, on an average must pay a tribute to insects of at least ten per cent. What is lacking in one is made up in another. For instance, fruits of all kinds are especially liable to injury from insects and the damage to them is much above the average.

Small Percentage Injurious. Notwithstanding this heavy tax, it is said that less than five per cent of insects are injurious. Ninety-five per cent are either harmless or really beneficial. Again it is said that the five per cent that levy the ten per cent tax on agriculture have become injurious from two causes; the destruction of their natural enemies or the removal of their food plants. The causes that have led to this great tax on farm products are still in operation and unless checked will in time lead to much heavier demands. It is estimated by some authorities that 75 per cent of our bird life has been destroyed. This is at best a guess, but every observer knows that song birds are becoming less numerous every year and that destructive insects are becoming more numerous.

But insects are not alone in levying a tax on agriculture. Such rodents as rats, mice and gophers also exact a tribute, and although the total is not as large as is exacted by our insect enemies, it amounts, on the whole, to millions of dollars every year. These also increase and become troublesome as a direct result of the destruction of their natural enemies. To begin with, the various species of animal life were well balanced and one species prevented the overproduction of the other. When man interfered and removed one, those which had furnished it food immediately became more numerous and in many cases have caused untold injury. The introduction of any old world animal, bird or insect is likely to be attended with serious consequences because their natural enemies are seldom brought also.

Yellow-billed cuckoo that is fond of hairy caterpillars and assists the blue jay in ridding the orchard of such pests.

Birds play an important part in reducing the number of weed seeds as well as noxious insects, and such animal pests as mice, rats, moles, etc.

The Seed Eaters. The boy who has to pull weeds from the garden when he would like to go fishing, should be the last to persecute the sober colored little field sparrows which live almost wholly on weed seeds. There are several different kinds of native American sparrows that thus render invaluable services. They should not be confused with the English sparrow. The English sparrow was first introduced into this country from Europe and has since spread nearly all over the country. This bird has some redeeming qualities, for it does destroy a few grasshoppers and other insects and eat some weed seed. Its food for the most part consists of grain. The most serious ### charge against it is the fact that it unmercifully persecutes our native birds, especially wrens and bluebirds. It will repeatedly destroy their eggs or young and drive them from their nests unless they are protected. The English sparrow also frequently destroys the eggs and young of robins, and other birds nesting about the yard or orchard, and has been an important factor in reducing the number of native birds to the present low mark. The English sparrow should be driven from the premises and the native birds encouraged. Bluebirds had been entirely driven from our neighborhood for several years, when we began to put up tomato cans especially for them to nest in. The sparrows were destroyed and the bluebirds shortly returned to their old haunts. Two families were reared in one of these cans the same year. We have several of them with a hole just the right size for the blue bird, placed in suitable situations. Figure 1. Those on top of the fence post about the barn lot seem to be favorites. Wrens also have been pleased with these cans and we have thus increased the number of wrens considerably. Some seasons we have perhaps a dozen families of them, since the English sparrows have been driven out.

The Cuckoo. There are two species of cuckoos. They are commonly called raincocks and are rather shy in their habits. The one shown in the picture on the boy's hand did not seem to be in good health. While I have found it possible to cultivate intimate friendship with many birds, never so far have I been able to gain the confidence of a yellow billed cuckoo, excepting the one shown in the photo. These birds are fond of hairy caterpillars, and assist the bluejay in ridding the orchard of such pests. One specimen is reported from Washington as having eaten 217 fall web worms at one meal. Another had eaten 250 tent caterpillars. It is a well known fact that these birds live very largely on caterpillars, such as cankerworms and others injurious in the orchard. The two species of cuckoos are very similar in appearance.

SIRES AND SONS. William Hayne Leavell, who will be the next minister to Guatemala, is a Presbyterian clergyman. Edmund Roussel, recently decorated with the Legion of Honor, is a Paris police officer. He has saved twenty eight lives during his service on the water front and received the distinction for his heroic acts. Lieutenant Charles Svenson, who was recently appointed chief pilot of the canal zone, was for years engaged as a navigator in Alaskan waters and later became a naval pilot for the government in the Puget sound district. F. J. Oulmet, the sensational young golfer who recently won for America the open golf championship against England's best, is a six foot youngster of twenty years, a native of Brookline, Mass. His father is a French Canadian, and his mother is of Irish descent. Professor A. M. Tozzer, the new president of the International School of American Archaeology and Ethnology, has been a member of the Harvard faculty since 1905 and is one of the most prominent archaeologists in this country. He is a native of Lynn, Mass., and a graduate of Harvard.

German Gleanings. Perambulators are not permitted in the chief shopping streets of Berlin. Germany has met its own requirements for most kinds of machinery, and has ceased to be dependent upon foreign countries. One of the important functions of the government in Germany is the issuing of permits to hunters. The revenue thus obtained is about $1,500,000 annually. In Berlin a prospective customer in a bakery, butcher shop or grocery store is not permitted to handle the bread, cake, meat, vegetables, etc. It is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine. That's why a professor gets $1,000 a year and a concrete braided fighter can get $10,000 on a boxer's work.—Cincinnati Enquirer. The "green sunsets" which the Russian arctic explorers witnessed were not akin to Dr. Cook's "purple snows," but were merely a verification of an old fable which was exploited in one of Jules Verne's romances.—New York Tribune.

Bring Beauty to the House. We must live in houses, but we need not set them in the midst of desolation; we can bring the beauty and fragrance of flowers and shrubbery to our very doors. Each day in the year there is something new to be discovered among the plants and shrubs; each week their appearance changes and all this may be for you and yours if you will have it so. Can you allow even a day to pass without doing something which will add doubly to the attractiveness of your home with perhaps a smaller outlay of money than any other improvement you could make? Give your young people the homelike attractions they may see some where else and you will have done much toward binding them to a happy home, for no home can be happy and barren, nor can you ask beauty-loving youth to cling to a barren home. Surround them with the beauties of nature—for no matter how limited your purse, she gives freely—and your children will go out from such a home with regret, carrying with them the memory of the old hammock under the trees, the roses along the drive and the vine covered porch. Such memories are never effaced, for it is the memory of a home, not of a cheerless house.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES IN GARDENING

FLOWERS AND FOLIAGE CAN ADD MUCH TO THE HOME LAWN.

Study and Not Indiscriminate Action Can Alone Bring About the Best Results—Window Gardening Has Good Points Too—First Impression of the Home Is Lasting.

(By Prof. J. C. Blair, Department of Horticulture, University of Illinois.)

Among the plants desirable for window gardening a few foliage plants will always be found satisfactory even if one has trouble with flowering plants. Of the former none seem to me more desirable than the charmingly graceful asparagus plumosus; it does not demand much if it has plenty of light; it is not too sensitive to atmospheric changes and thoroughly delights the eye with its delicate lace like fronds. The umbrella plant is another peculiar foliage plant—never so happy as when it has wet feet. It is rather an exception in this, for the majority of foliage plants prefer a moist but not a wet soil. I take it for granted that your plants reached you from the dealer or florist in the regular glazed flower pot, which is better than any other receptacle, because it can be secured in any desired size and insures evaporation and proper drainage. A glazed or painted pot, or a tin can is likely to hold too much moisture in the soil and to keep the air away from the roots. Some people having had success with porch boxes, have tried them in side instead of using individual pots, but I would recommend the latter in preference, because they are more easily handled and the arrangement can be changed at will or as the plants seem to require. There is a very valuable little book on "Window Gardening" prepared by Prof. H. B. Dornier and I would suggest that, if you are interested in the subject, you should secure this little manual. (Bobbs-Merrill Co., Indianapolis, No. 47).

First View Counts Much. From the entrance where one gets his first view of the place, the residence should appear to its best advantage—should neither be completely hidden nor too closely disclosed. It should appear as though set in a frame of greenery. The entrance should be made by an unobtrusive drive along the border, not by way of a much beveled central avenue. The middle of the lawn should be given up to a good grass plot, both flower beds and small shrubbery groups being placed in an irregular mass along the border. I know a certain 20x40 foot lawn in an Illinois town where I counted 19 separate patches of planting. I say "patches" advisedly, for patchiness exactly describes the effect. Aside from appearances, a lawn much cut up is difficult to mow and keep in order, so once again utility and beauty work hand in hand.

Study the Home Lawn. I advise everyone to study his home lawn; see what spoils it; plan for what would improve it; ask the advice of someone who has been fitted for the business of advising on matters of planting. But, if the latter is not available, do not give up. Begin by removing all unsightly trees or shrubs. Replace these by good native trees of such size that you will not have to wait until old age to see the effect of your good work. A large tree will not be as difficult to transplant as you may imagine. Hardy flowering shrubs should be grouped along the border of the lawn and do not despise some of your woodland material. Perennials, too, should come before annuals, not alone because they need less annual attention but because, once set, they seem to grow and to become a very part of their surroundings, while annuals strike a new and unfamiliar note each year. For this reason, annuals should be confined to beds in the rear or else planted as an outline along the border shrubbery. I am not disparaging annuals which have their place defined place and which nothing else can fill, but their place is not in front yard flower beds.

Tales of Cities. Greater Boston claims a population of 1,522,912. San Francisco claims to have been first settled by Spaniards in 1776. Duesseldorf makes the claim of being the most artistically beautiful city in Germany. Tetuan, a Moroccan city in the Tangle peninsula, has been named the capital of the Spanish possession in northwest Africa.

TO THE READERS OF THE CORN BELTER

A series of articles will begin in the Corn Belter on the general subject of Modern Conveniences in the Farm Home. The introductory article will be written by Dean Eugene Davenport of the college of agriculture. It will state the problem as he sees it and touch upon the economic phase of the subject.

The remaining articles will be written by the farm mechanics, state water survey, household science and landscape horticulture departments of the University of Illinois. These articles will be short and practical and will include the results of a survey of five or six typical farms.

Another series of three or four articles will come along in a few weeks on Farm Credits—a subject of wide interest just now. Other articles now in preparation are on Poultry, Beef Cattle, Meats; from the dairy department on various phases of the milk problem and dairying in general; from the agronomy department on the "Growing of Sweet Clover," the "Work of the Soil Survey during the last Summer," from household science on "The Conduct of a Lunch Room," on cooking, preparation of meals, etc.

In conclusion we wish to say that these articles are being prepared particularly for the Corn Belter page by the men and women of the agricultural college. Several articles in the first series mentioned may be prepared by women in the state who are actually using the modern conveniences described in their own home.

In addition to these there will appear frequently short articles by the county advisers of the state. There is one just appearing by Mr. Readhimer and the Feeding Value of Alfalfa for the Dairy Cow, another one at hand is by Mr. Pruitt of Peoria county on "The Place of Clover in Agriculture."

We wish to put the question to the readers: Where can you go for more authentic and up-to-date information on topics that are vital to Illinois agriculture?

KERNELS FROM KORN BELT
(By Sol E. Quizer.)

Many a man wins a reputation for information because he's so positive concerning the things he doesn't know anything about.

It takes considerable bull headedness to get a good stand of cowpeas. One little pint bottle can hold a peck of trouble.

There never was a lad alive But, if he had his wishes, Would wish an earthquake on the house.

Proverbs. A thread too fine spun will easily break.—French Proverb. Keep your mouth and keep your friend.—Danish Proverb. The best part of repentance is little sinning.—Arabian Proverb. The king goes as far as he may, not so far as he would.—Spanish Proverb. A wise man adapts himself to circumstances as water shapes itself to the vessel that contains it.—Chinese Proverb.

Comparative Feeding Values. Stating the values of the different crops shown in the preceding table in terms of dollars and cents we have the following a shilling acre value: Alfalfa ..... $60.48 Corn silage ..... 29.44 Shelled corn ..... 22.58 Clover ..... 28.24 Timothy ..... 14.70 Bran, 3 tons ..... 61.62 Timothy, 1 1/2 tons ..... 85. It can readily be seen from this table that alfalfa is by far the most valuable crop from the feeding standpoint. It is not only richer in total digestible nutrients, but very much richer in digestible protein. It is practically as rich as bran.

Requirements Not Numerous. The requirements of the alfalfa plant are not numerous, but they are important. In the first place the land must be well drained. The higher lands of the county are best alfalfa lands. The high lands are also the poorest lands on the farm for corn and oats. Thus by growing alfalfa, the poorest lands on the farm may be made to return the largest dividends. The land should be sweet. As a rule the uplands of the county are

ALFALFA VALUES SHOWN BY FIGURES

CORN EXCEEDS ALL OTHER IN RETURNS TO FARMERS.

Comparative Results in Kane County Based on Record of Three Years—Alfalfa Will Better Soil Conditions as Well as Make Splendid Direct Returns.

(By J. E. Readhimer, Agricultural Adviser for Kane County.)

Those who are now growing alfalfa should grow more and many who are not growing it at all should be making a start. With a hundred thousand acres of small grain in Kane county is certainly seems as if there ought to be fifty thousand acres of alfalfa. That would mean only about 20 acres on each of the 2,300 farms. As the average size of the farms of the county is 134 acres, 20 acres on each farm would mean less than one-sixth of the land

J. E. READHIMER Agricultural adviser for Kane county, is a graduate of the University of Illinois, 1904. Until his recent appointment he was for many years superintendent of experiment fields at the University of Illinois. Perhaps no man in the state today has more detailed information in regard to Illinois soils than Mr. Readhimer.

devoted to alfalfa. This is certainly not too large a proportion when the value of alfalfa as a crop is compared with the value of some of our common farm crops as oats, barley, wheat, timothy or even corn. The average value per acre of the corn crop of this county is only $23; that of the oats crop only $18; that of the hay crop only $17; while that of the small acreage of alfalfa is $37. These are the market values based on the yields and prices for 1908 to 1912 inclusive.

If we compare the feeding value of these crops the difference is still greater in favor of alfalfa. The following table shows the values of the crops measured in terms of total digestible nutrients and digestible protein.

Digestible material in one acre:

	Total	Protein
Bran, 3 tons	3240	720
Alfalfa, 3 tons	3180	660
Corn silage, 8 tons	2560	195
Shelled corn, 40 bu	1795	175
Clover, 2 tons	1840	270
Timothy, 1 1/2 tons	1380	85

It can readily be seen from this table that alfalfa is by far the most valuable crop from the feeding standpoint. It is not only richer in total digestible nutrients, but very much richer in digestible protein. It is practically as rich as bran.

Upsetting the Salt Cup. In some parts of the world, particularly in Germany, it is still believed that the upsetting of the saltcellar is the direct act of Satan—"the peace disturber." And the habit of trying to avert any catastrophe which may happen by tossing a little of the salt over the shoulder is due to the belief that by so doing one hits the invisible Satan in the eye, which temporarily, at least, prevents his doing further mischief.

Their Attachment. "Do animals possess the sentiment of affection?" asked the school teacher of the little girl. "Yeth, ma'am; almost always." "Good," said the teacher, "and now," turning to a little boy, "tell me what animal has the greatest natural fondness for man." The small boy considered carefully and finally answered, "Woman."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Birds and Cyclones. It has been suggested that birds habitually make use of storms in traveling from one part of their range to another. It is pointed out that if a bird cannot find a shelter it must be more comfortable on the wing than on the ground during a storm, because in the fiercest gale it flies in a moving medium, like a swimmer in a strongly flowing river.—Harper's Weekly.

No Use For One. "What itinerary did you take on your European trip?" "John wouldn't let me take one at all. You see, he's crossed the ocean before, and he said it was foolish to fill our trunk with a lot of things we'd never use."—Detroit Free Press.

more or less sour. Alfalfa is a gross feeder on lime and does best when there is an abundance of it in the soil. While much of the land of Kane county will grow alfalfa fairly well without lime, still a good deal of it is too acid for alfalfa and practically all of it would be greatly benefited by lime. Lime in the form of ground limestone is so cheap that no alfalfa grower can afford to try to grow it without first thoroughly liming the land. It is now possible to have limestone screenings delivered to any point in the county for $1 per ton. An application of three or four tons per acre will be sufficient to sweeten any of the soils of the county and to keep them sweet for six or eight years. This means only 50 cents per acre per year and in many instances, will mean the difference between success and failure. The increased yield the first year will almost invariably more than pay for the entire application.

Plant Delicate at First. The land should be manured to provide readily plant food for the use of the young alfalfa before it has become able to secure its own plant food. After it has become well established no more manure need be applied. It is a very delicate plant while young, and everything possible should be done to make the conditions favorable. Nothing helps so much as a liberal application of manure.

The last requirement is that of inoculation, which is probably the most important one. Most failures have undoubtedly resulted from the lack of inoculation from any other one cause. The matter of inoculation is so simple that many farmers have neglected it because of its seemingly unimportance.

SLIDES FOR LIFE.

Tibet's Perilous Bridges and the Way They Are Crossed.

In Tibet they have not yet progressed far beyond the primitive. Especially when it comes to engineering the Tibetans are at about the stage reached by Europeans six centuries ago. At that time in Switzerland they used a long cable and swiveling carrier for the transport of heavy weights, even of cannon from one mountain to another a little lower down. Now, in Tibet they do not try to build bridges across the Mekong river, but where there are high cliffs a cable is stretched to the other side of the river, and for a trifling fee the person who wishes to cross clings to a thick bark carrier and slides down, holding up his feet at the point where the water nears the perilous bridge. If he wants to cross back he must go farther up or down the river to a point where another cable is stretched from a high cliff to the other side, and again he performs the "slide for life." This may not be a very comfortable way of crossing a river, but it is easier than swimming across, especially if there are rapids in the stream, and it is the favorite and cheap way of building bridges among the Tibetans.—New York World.

Pithy Summing Up. The late Mayor Gaynor of New York, as all the world knows from his letters, was a subtle critic, and at a luncheon at the Century club, discussing a novelist who had begun well, but had degenerated into the lowest type of "best seller," Mayor Gaynor said: "This scribbler's whole biography could be put into two questions and answered thus: "How did he commence writing?" "With a wealth of thought." "And how has he continued?" "With a thought of wealth."—Washington Star.

The Illinois Method. It is doubtless of interest to many farmers in the state to know that the state of Illinois prepares a serum for the treatment of hogs as described above. This is done at the state laboratories, under the direction of the state board of live stock commissioners, by whom it is distributed free of charge. The only expense being that of express. Before writing in for the serum, it would be much better to ask for Bulletin No. 7, which gives a rather complete description of the disease, an account of the various methods of treatment, and a list of requirements which must be fulfilled before the serum or virus will be sent out. Don't delay in sending for this bulletin until there is an outbreak in your herd, for then it may take so long to get it that the serum that you have ordered will be dead or past help. The thing you can do is to send them a card at once, requesting the bulletin at once. Read it through thoroughly when you get it so you will be prepared to act promptly and wisely when an outbreak occurs.

HOG CHOLERA SEEMS TO INCREASE WITH TIME

DISEASE HAS SPREAD ALARMINGLY FOR LACK OF ORGANIZED EFFORT.

Authorities Differ Widely as to Best Methods for Combating and Controlling Disease Has Raged at Intervals in United States Since 1833—Use of Serum Brings Best Results.

(By W. J. Carmichael, Assistant in Animal Husbandry, University of Illinois.)

Beyond any doubt in the minds of those who have been making a careful study of the situation, hog cholera is spreading rapidly farther and getting more under our control. The reason for this is that no really systematic effort has been made to subdue it in any except very small localities. Perhaps the reason for this apparent neglect is that authorities differ so widely on the proper, safe, and most practical method for perfect control.

History of Disease.

This disease has raged in parts of the United States since 1833, when it was first discovered in Ohio. It is thought to have been brought here in importations of hogs from European countries, although this is not known for absolute certainty. Since that date the malady has spread in all directions until now it is in almost every corner of the United States and is still spreading. It has been the object of much experimentation, bringing out scores of so-called cures, all of which are really useless. The perplexing feature of this disease is that no one has ever been able to discover the cause, consequently we have been unable to conduct a scientific investigation along the lines of its action and method of control. Scientists have universally agreed, however, that it must be caused by some untrio-microscopic organism.

The Use of Serum.

This organism they are able to master in any given animal if they start in time. This is done, not by drugs of any sort, but by the use of blood serum from a hyper-immune animal. This serum is injected into the body of the hog to be immunized. Immunity from this kind of treatment is comparatively brief, but life long immunity may be secured by injecting virus into a different part of the body at the time of serum injection, provided the pig weighs over 50 pounds. The latter method has a few obviously serious drawbacks. The greatest of these is that it carries cholera wherever it goes, and although the created outbreak is in a very mild form, it may assume a more virulent state as it is passed from one animal to the other. There is considerable doubt in regard to the possibility of ever controlling the disease by a method which seems to help spread it and, as a result, in some parts of the country, no virus is used under any conditions, for the reason stated above. The United States department of agriculture is doing some interesting work towards the solution of methods of control. Recently Montgomery county, Indiana, was selected as a seat of operation, and $25,000 has been appropriated for use there under the direction of Drs. Houk and Niles, both of whom are government experts. Dr. Houk has personal supervision of the work and is in the field all the time. They are using a serum which is prepared at Ames, Iowa, under government supervision, in cooperation with the Iowa experiment station. It will be extremely interesting to learn the results of a test of this kind which is large enough to ascertain the possibility of control over a given area. If they succeed there, there is no apparent reason why the same cannot be duplicated in other localities.

The Illinois Method. It is doubtless of interest to many farmers in the state to know that the state of Illinois prepares a serum for the treatment of hogs as described above. This is done at the state laboratories, under the direction of the state board of live stock commissioners, by whom it is distributed free of charge. The only expense being that of express. The thing you can do is to send them a card at once, requesting the bulletin at once. ## TRADERS INCLINED TO DEAL LIGHTLY

SPECULATORS NOT INCLINED TO DEAL HEAVILY IN STOCKS.

Call Money Fluctuates Between 6 and 10 Per Cent—Offerings Are Enlarged at 10 Per Cent, the Highest Rate of the Year and the Market Relaxes.

(By Associated Press)
New York, Oct. 31.—With call money fluctuating between 6 and 10 per cent today speculators were not inclined to deal heavily in stocks. Renewals were made at 6 per cent, compared with five per cent yesterday and the rate then rose to 10 per cent, the highest of the year. Offerings were enlarged at this figure and the market relaxed. The high point today marked the steepest rate for call money since last December when 12 per cent was quoted.

Bankers spoke of the flurry in call money as of only passing importance due to conditions not unusual at this period of the year. With Nov. 1 payments of dividends and interest out of the way, it is expected that the market will relax to a normal basis. Coincident with the rise in call money, there was a tightening of rates for time funds. Speculative sentiment was decidedly pessimistic. Affairs in Mexico were uppermost in influencing the growth of the bearish sentiment.

Mexican petroleum broke seven points. New York Central's decrease of nearly $1,000,000 in September net earnings and New Haven's falling off for the quarter of $225,000 tended to depress the railroad list. New Haven convertible 6's touched a new low record at 103 1/2.

Woman Is As Old As She Looks

No woman wants to look old. Many in their effort to look youthful resort to the "beauty doctor's" prescriptions. Their mistake is that they visit the wrong department in the drug store. Beauty depends upon health.

Worry, sleepless nights, headaches, pains, disorders, irregularities and weakness of a distinctly feminine character in a short time bring the dull eye, the "crow's foot," the haggard look, drooping shoulders, and the falling step.

To retain the appearance of youth you must retain health. Instead of lotions, powders and paints, ask your druggist for

DR. PIERCE'S Favorite Prescription

This famous medicine strikes at the very root of these enemies of your youthful appearance. It makes you not only look young, but feel young.

Your druggist can supply you in liquid or tablet form or send 50-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce's Invalid Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and trial box will be mailed you.

TRADE CURRENTS STILL RUN UNEVEN

RUSH OF FALL TRADE AT PRIMARY MARKETS NOW LESSENING.

Interior Jobbers Find That Cool Weather and Crop Movement Has Stimulated Retail Trade—Labor Troubles Still Exert an Adverse Effect in Some Industries.

New York, Oct. 31.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Trade currents still run uneven. The rush of fall trade at primary markets apparently reached its zenith two weeks ago and is now lessening but there is more doing by interior jobbers who find that cool weather and crop movement have stimulated retail trade. There is a very general consensus of opinion that October distributive trade has fully equalled that of the like month a year ago. In industrial lines the feature is the further quieting down of demand for iron and steel. There is a more quiet tone in industry generally and possibly more idle labor than at any time since last spring. Business failures for the week were 227 which compares with 257 in 1912.

Dun's Weekly Review.

New York, Oct. 31.—Dun's Review will say tomorrow:

Evidences of trade recession are confined to industrial lines strictly mercantile conditions remaining favorable. The reactionary tendency in iron and steel has become rather more marked, further price concessions being announced and a slackening of operations noted at some mills. Through the process of lowering quotations new demands have been stimulated in certain directions and consumption is well maintained with hopeful views expressed regarding the outlook. While the report of the leading producer for the September quarter did not equal expectations, with one exception, the net earnings exceeded all previous records for the period and a substantial gain was shown over last year. Labor troubles still exert an adverse effect in some industries but cotton goods manufacturers are well equipped and values reflected increased firmness as a result of the high cost of the raw material.

JACKSONVILLE.

I believe with all my heart in the city of Jacksonville. There is no other city in the state that has a higher grade of manhood and womanhood. If you had lived in other cities as I have you would know better how to appreciate our beautiful city. I believe in the institutions of learning in Jacksonville, and not a few have been the first class men and women who have been sent out from this place to make the world brighter and better.

When I decided to come to Jacksonville I was congratulated by a great many for the privilege of going to come to so clean and moral a city, and I have had no grounds to regret coming, and have even found things better than was told me.

I agree with the mayor and some of the commissioners that there has never been a time when Jacksonville was better and cleaner than at this time. notwithstanding Mr. Gardner and other hired orators from abroad to the contrary. I do not believe that our fair city is full of men peddling booze and are going about visiting the dark places, and running their hands through a hole in the wall through cob-webs and cock-roaches to get the very worst grade of booze. I believe that the laws are being enforced as well in Jacksonville as in any city of the size of Jacksonville in the state. I believe that it is wrong to allow any man or men to come to our city and besmirch the name and good reputation of our citizens.

If you believe that Jacksonville is so bad, and is so full of law violators, and boot-leggers, and blind-pigs, you go and interview the mayor, the clerk and commissioners of this city. You need not stop with them, go to the sheriff and his deputies and get what they have to say about this matter. Go hear what the state's attorney has to say on this question. If Jacksonville were as bad a place as Mr. Gardner and some others would have you think, I would begin to look for another location, so would you. I believe that Jacksonville is as good and clean a city as Rockford or any other city in Illinois or in any other state and I am going to vote to keep her clean.

A VOTER.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The amount of incoming freight at the various stations in the city show that Jacksonville is certainly using a large quantity of goods.

Official car No. 91 passed through yesterday on the Burlington with general manager Ostruck and Superintendent W. E. Thiehoff.

R. J. VanDyke, traveling passenger agent of Denver & Rio Grande road was in the city yesterday calling on local railroad men.

E. J. Christopher, third track operator at the Burlington, went to Waverly with his wife for a visit with the parents of both.

Chester A. Nunes, assistant roadmaster of the Burlington, with headquarters at Beardstown, was in the city yesterday on official business.

R. E. Griffith, cashier at the Burlington freight office, has returned from a visit with friends in Griggsville.

The Burlington is now doubled tracked to Virden and both tracks are in use but not much is now being done in the way of more extension in that line.

Increasing business has made it necessary for the Burlington to employ more operators and a second and third track operator have been placed at Atwater, north of Litchfield, Ayers and at Keyesport, south of Litchfield. These offices are now open all night.

Thomas Chase, division passenger agent of the Chicago & Alton with headquarters at Springfield, was in the city yesterday.

The wrecking train and crew passed through the city yesterday on the Alton for San Jose to replace a freight car which had gotten off the track and to look after some other damage.

Harvey Hall, a freight conductor on the Alton, has returned to Kookhouse with his wife and son after a visit with Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Haigh on Hardin avenue.

The C. P. & St. L. men were busy yesterday getting ready the payroll for the anticipated visit of the payroll clerk today.

C. H. Prindle, superintendent of the C. P. & St. L. road was calling on local officials yesterday.

At the Car Shops.

No. 51, pulling freight yesterday on the C. P. & St. L. cut up some queer pranks coming out of Litchberry yesterday. She broke her left axle, eccentric, both left blocks, both eccentric straps, left rocker arm, left release valve case and left valve yoke. She was towed into port by the passenger engine and is now in the round house undergoing repairs which will take some days.

No. 27 is taking the place of No. 51 recently done up while coming out of Litchberry.

The Litchberry section men are here helping line up the C. P. & St. L. and Wabash crossing.

Workmen are dismantling No. 61 which has been standing on the tracks in the yards a long time waiting her turn to be overhauled.

C. S. Brantley, superintendent of motive power of the C. P. & St. L. road spent part of yesterday with Superintendent Ingrund of the car shops looking over the buildings, equipment and everything in general. He paid especial attention to the work on the many locomotives and engines and was pleased with the condition in which he found things.

Four gasoline storage tanks, of 130 gallons capacity have been ordered for the motor cars and Foreman Doerfler will have them out as soon as possible and send them to Springfield to be installed.

Henry Blundell, employed in the boiler shop has resigned and gone to Peoria.

The car shops men are going to organize and indoor baseball club and when in shape for business they say they will challenge any amateur organization to play for any amount desired.

George Striker, a boiler maker, has returned from a visit with friends in St. Louis.

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE

IS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

They Love to Take It and It Doesn't Harm the Tender Little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled.—Adv.

NATIONAL W. C. T. U. IN SESSION. Asbury Park, N.J. Oct. 31.—More than five hundred delegates and as many more visitors filled the Casino here today when the 40th annual convention of the National Woman's Temperance union was formally opened. The delegates came from every state of the union. In addition many of the foreign delegates who took part in the world's convention at Brooklyn last week are here. The chief feature of today's program was the annual address of Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens of Maine, the president of the national organization. New Orleans, Indianapolis and Atlanta are engaged in a spirited contest for the next convention.

INDIGESTION ENDED, STOMACH FEELS FINE

Time "Pape's Diapiesin!" In Five Minutes all Sourness, Gas, Heartburn and Dyspepsia Is Gone.

Sour, gassy, upset stomach, indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia; when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's when you realize the magic in Pape's Diapiesin. It makes all stomach misery vanish in five minutes.

If your stomach is in a continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated, please, for your sake, try Pape's Diapiesin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach—make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapiesin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapiesin "really does" regulate weak, out-of-order stomachs that gives it its millions of sales annually.

Get a large 50 cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store. It is the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known. It acts almost like magic—it is a scientific, harmless and pleasant preparation which truly belongs in every home.—Adv.

LINCOLN HIGHWAY DEDICATION.

New York, Oct. 31.—With local celebrations extending across the continent, the Lincoln Memorial highway was formally dedicated tonight. According to advices received here programs have been arranged in practically every city, town and village along the route of the highway from New York to San Francisco. The programs provide for parades, torchlight processions, band concerts, speeches and motion pictures of good road building.

FACES "WHITE SLAVE" TRIAL.

Cincinnati, Oct. 31.—Charles C. Shepard was arraigned in the federal court today charged with having taken 17-year-old Pansy Lipsecomb from her home in Newport, Ky., to Ironton, Ohio, for immoral purposes.

Mother's Friend in Every Home

Comfort and Safety Assured Before the Arrival of the Stork.

The old saying—what is home without a mother—should add "Mother's Friend." In thousands of American homes there is a bottle of this splendid and famous remedy that has aided many a woman through the trying ordeal of labor, suffering and pain, kept her in health of mind and body in advance of baby's coming and had a most wonderful influence in developing a healthy, lively disposition in the child. There is no other remedy so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding and soothes the inflammation of breast glands.

Mother's Friend is an external remedy, acts quickly and not only banishes all distress in advance, but assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother. Thus she becomes a healthy woman with all her strength preserved so thoroughly enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend can be had at any drug store at $1.00 a bottle, and is really one of the greatest blessings ever discovered for expectant mothers. Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 128 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their free book. Write today. It is most instructive.

There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman wants to know, and will be a splendid little textbook for guidance, not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And, in the meantime, do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store, and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort.

A PLAIN DUTY.

The Most Reverend Archbishop Keane of Dubuque, has for many years been prominent and fearless in advocating remedies for the evil of intemperance and fearless in advocating remedies for the evil of intemperance. He says: "When we look around and consider how widespread, how destructive and how scandalous is the evil in question, and when we call to mind our duty to God, to the church, to ourselves, and to our neighbors, then it becomes self evident that it is everyone's duty to do what God's providence makes it possible for him to do, toward arresting such an evil and removing such a scandal. And this must mainly depend, not on the efforts of drunkards, but on the efforts of good and sober men. As a bishop he said to me years ago, 'The backbone of the Catholic total abstinence movement must be men who never were drunkards.' How any Catholic could feel indifference to this desolating and soul destroying evil, I cannot understand. How any Catholic could fail to use any opportunity that God gave him to check this flood of destruction, I can still less comprehend. And the greater the influence anyone may possess towards hindering the evil, the more do I wonder by what logic he can possibly excuse himself from exerting it. But that any Catholic should, in any way, help on the evil; that he could be bribed at any price to harness himself to this demon-engine of desolation, and help it onward in its horrid course, is to me a mystery beyond solution. The bare facts of the case ought to create among Catholics a hatred of the vice and everything that tends to produce or maintain it."

WILL PUSH REBUILDING
PLANS AT CRAWFORD MILL

New Structure May Be of Steel and Concrete—Garage Used For Temporary mill.

A large force of men are now employed tearing away and burning up much of the rubbish resulting from the recent disastrous fire at the Crawford mill and as speedily as possible the work of rebuilding will be commenced. While the complete plans for the building have not been made it is likely that it will be of steel and concrete construction but one story high and covering a larger area of ground than here before. To provide this additional building site it will be necessary to remove a large shed which stood west of the main building and also to remove a house which fronts on Mauvalterre street. It is the plan to have the new structure reach the Mauvalterre street line. The garage which adjoins the main mill building was damaged only in the roof and this has already been replaced in a temporary way. A six horse power engine which was used for heating the Crawford houses is located in the garage and will furnish enough power for running at least two saws which are to be placed in the room at once. A work bench has already been built there and it is the expectation that some mill work for which there is a pressing demand can be taken care of in this room at once. As the work of installing the saw frames was commenced yesterday. In this connection it is interesting to note that the little engine referred to is the identical one which Mr. Crawford installed in the original planing mill and although it has seen so many years of service it is still in good working condition. Eli W. Crawford who sprained his shoulder badly the night of the fire is still compelled to carry his left arm in a sling and will probably not have much use of it for some time to come.

LAW DISTRIBUTED.

Copies of the new fish law and game law of Illinois, enacted at the last session of the state legislature, which have been much in demand by justices of the peace and city clerks, have been sent out from Springfield.

The copies of the new laws are in pamphlet form and 46 pages of small type are necessary to reproduce the statutes. There is an insert page of the pamphlet calling attention to the act of congress in turning the conservation of fish and game of the United States over to the department of agriculture and the enactment by congress of laws suggested by the United states commissioner of agriculture. The federal statute forbidding the killing of certain water fowls at certain periods of the year, the pamphlet says, is in conflict with the new state law and supersedes the state law wherever there is conflict. Hunters are warned to familiarize themselves with the new federal law.

MORTUARY

Barcroft.

Ralph Barcroft, aged 48 years, died Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his residence 606 South Avenue, after a brief illness.

Mr. Barcroft was a son of William and Eliza Barcroft and was born in Jacksonville, September 29, 1865. He was married to Ada Sawtelle of Markham March 15, 1893 and had spent practically his entire life in Jacksonville. He is survived by his wife, two sisters and one brother, Misses Minnie and Cassie Barcroft and Gus Barcroft, all of this city. The deceased was a member of the Red Men and the Ben Hur.

Funeral services will be held at the late residence Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock and interment will be made in Liberty cemetery.

Hart.

Stanley Hart, 5-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Hart of 336 West State street, died at Our Savior's hospital Friday night at 11 o'clock. He was taken to the hospital Friday afternoon, suffering from double pneumonia, which developed from croup. The deceased is survived by his mother. His father preceded him in death.

The remains were taken to the Williams & Cody undertaking establishment. Arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

Faurie.

Relatives here have received word of the death of an infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Laurie of Missoula, Mont.

REMARKABLE SALE OF MILLINERY TODAY AT HERMAN'S.

WITH THE SICK.

Mrs. G. V. Skinner who was operated on recently at Passavant hospital is improving in a satisfactory manner.

Mrs. Kronk, mother of Mrs. H. L. Hunt of the opera house, is suffering with temporary illness.

J. A. Obermeyer was able to be at his place of business yesterday after an illness of a few days.

Mrs. James Brown is reported sick at her home on West Court street. Albert Crum who was quite ill at his home in Liberty Thursday evening, was very much improved Friday.

Football, Wesleyan vs. Illinois, on Illinois field today at 2 p. m.

SERIOUS FIRE AVERTED.

A serious fire was averted Wednesday evening at the home of Joseph Smith, 1950 North Fayette street, by the prompt action of Mr. Smith, when a jack o'lantern caught fire while no one was in the room, burning the lace curtains and window shade. When it was discovered the pole above the window was ablaze also the floor where portions of the curtain had fallen and burned a hole.

CHARLES JUDY HOLDS AUCTION SALE OF LIVESTOCK FRIDAY

Disposes of 905 Head of Cows, Steers and Mules For a Total of About $34,221.50.

Nine hundred people attended the public sale of livestock held by Charles Judy at his farm near Tallula Friday, when 905 head of cows, yearling steers and mules were sold for a total of $34,221.50. The bidders were present from a wide area as it shown from the fact that of the eighteen carloads of stock shipped from Tallula Friday night several went to points in Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri and Indiana, aside from those in Illinois.

The cows were sold in lots of 100 each and the 784 head averaged $31.75, 91 yearling steers averaged $44.50 and 30 mules averaged $176. Toke Ward and Charles Campbell were the auctioneers and Jude Savage acted as clerk.

For 30c we give you a choice coffee. Clans Tea Co.

CHAUTAUQUA FINANCES.

The bills for the last chautauqua have all been settled. There was about $100 left over from last year and some of the indebtedness mentioned at the court house meeting was scaled down a bit. As Mr. Shaw had no profits from which to draw it was agreed to allow him fifty dollars more than what had been agreed upon for his services and when all was settled and every bill as far as known to be in existence paid there was some fifty dollars left in the treasury.

Nothing more definite has been done regarding the affair next year but no difficulty is anticipated in securing the remaining 36 persons to become guarantors to extent of ten dollars severally and when that is accomplished the way of organization will be open.

Those fall and winter suits at Kufles are just what you need.

BRADLEY TO DEBATE ILLINOIS.

A contract has been signed for a freshman-sophomore debate between Illinois college and Bradley Polytechnic Institute of Peoria, to be held in this city March 6. By the terms of the contract students are eligible up to the junior year. Last year the contest, held at Peoria, was between members of the freshman classes only. Although definite plans have not been made as to the choosing of the Illinois college team, a large amount of competition is expected for the positions. It is agreed that the question for debate will be submitted by Bradley, the Illinois debaters to take choice of sides.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

At Degen's hall a social dance was given Friday night by Misses Zeda Wolters, Lella Berryman, Rena Packard, Frances English, Louise Mansfield and Jessie Rottger. The hall was handsomely decorated in Halloween colors and was very inviting. Randall's orchestra supplied music and all was merry and happy. The young people danced until a late hour and went home delighted with the manner in which they enjoyed Halloween.

Mrs. A. A. Dinwiddie entertained a company of ladies at her home three miles east of Liberty Friday afternoon, in honor of her mother, Mrs. Hart of Dixon. A very delectable dinner was served. Among the ladies present were: Mrs. S. H. Crum, Mrs. J. M. Lister, Mrs. M. M. Crum, Mrs. W. E. Murry, Mrs. J. A. Lister, Mrs. J. C. McPherson, Mrs. W. H. Brown, Mrs. Frank Dinwiddie and Mrs. Samuel Dinwiddie.

T. P. A. meeting tonight.

AGED LADY FALLS AND FRACTURES HIP.

Mrs. William Slack, over 80 years of age, is suffering from a fractured hip, the result of a fall sustained recently at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. N. Seymour, 322 East State street. She was reclining on a couch and was attempting to make her way to the supper table when the accident occurred. On account of the seriousness of the injury and the age of the patient, little hope is entertained by her relatives for recovery.

Mrs. Slack was for many years a resident of Franklin, coming to the city only recently.

GIVE SMOKE AT ARMORY.

A smoker was given at Armory hall Friday evening by the Jacksonville Business Men's Protective association, which was largely attended, and Rev. W. A. Gardner gave a fifteen minute address. Sample ballots were on display and Mr. Gardner instructed the auditors about voting. Other smokers were Eli McLaughlin and William Batz. Judge Greenhaigh of Petersburg will give an address in Central park this afternoon at 3 o'clock, providing the weather permits. If the weather is too inclement for an out-of-doors meeting the address will be given in Armory hall at the same hour.

WESLEYAN AN OPPONENT TODAY

WILL PLAY ILLINOIS ON LOCAL FIELD.

Fast Game Expected When Rival Teams Meet—Wesleyan is Out for State Championship. Second Team Plays Deaf and Dumb.

Illinois college eleven will have their hands full this afternoon, when they go up against the strong team from Wesleyan university, who are out for the state championship. Wesleyan is strong this year, having defeated Williams and Vashti, last year's champions by a score of 3 to 0. Coach Harmon sent his men through their last practice and every man is in good shape and expect to give the visitors the best they have. With both teams in the pink of condition it will certainly be a contest worth seeing. Last night an enthusiastic meeting was held because of the approaching football struggle and speeches were made by Pres. Rammelkamp, T. H. Buckthorpe, Dr. Tanner, Capt. Alfred and Coach Harmon. Illinois' lineup will be Pierce, re; Frisbe, rt; Darragh, rg; Mavey, c; Lukeman, lg; Russell, lt; McLaughlin, le; Stewart, or; Gary, qb; Alford, lb; Wilby, tlb; Mitchell, fb. The game will be refereed by Kiebley of Peoria and Morris of Carrolltown will umpire. Following the big game the second team of Illinois college will play the Deaf and Dumb eleven.

AT THE GRAND.

Augustin Mac Hugh's melodramatic farce "Officer 666" was presented at the Grand last night. The play, which has had very popular runs in Chicago and New York during several seasons is full of interest and laughter. While the original did not appear in Jacksonville last night the presenting company was capable and the audience was well pleased with the performance.

STUDENTS AT BROWN'S HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION

At an enthusiastic meeting of the student body of Brown's Business college at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon officers were elected for 1913-14 as follows:

President—Grover L. Thompson, White Hall.

Vice president—Bryant Warren, Mt. Vernon.

Secretary—Bonita Olsen, Jacksonville.

Treasurer—Elsie Osterholdt, Jacksonville.

Press Reporter—Bryant Warren.
